12 Novia Scotia Miners Entombed For Week Tell Of Praying, Singing

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (AP) — Twelve miners brought to the surface today after being trapped nearly a week in a wrecked coal mine told of praying and singing hymns to keep up their courage as they waited out the long, dark hours.

Some of the sturdier ones told of the ordeal after their dramatic rescue early today from the Cumberland No. 2 coal mine, where they were trapped by a massive earth shift last Thursday night.

The force of the shift tossed them against the roof of the tunnel where they were working more than two miles from the mine entrance.

Hugh Guthro, 31, said he was buried up to his chest but remained conscious. He said he knew some of his comrades were dying along the coal wall. Other miners dug him out.

The 12 found themselves trapped in a pocket 100 feet long and 3 feet high. By some miracle, there was no gas and some fresh air seeped in through the debris, Guthro said.

"At first we tried to dig our own way out but soon we got so weak we had to stop," he said. "We had no food and no water since Sunday or Monday. The last thing we ate were a few crusts of bread.

"We rationed our lights and cut some batteries off the dead men but on Monday we were in darkness. I'd say Caleb Rushton kept us going."

Rushton, 35, perhaps the strongest of the group when rescuers arrived, sang hymns.

The air gradually became bad. There was no room to stand. In their struggle to stay alive when the last water was gone, they drank urine mixed with bark, they told physicians.

By Monday the men had given up hope of being rescued. Hope also had been abandoned on the surface, but the rescue crews kept digging.

Then Wednesday rescue crews stumbled on a broken air pipe leading to the entombed men and heard the muffled voice of Gorley Kempt, 37, say:

"There are 12 of us here, come and get us. Get us water."

Soon after the men got their first sustenance in at least four days. Coffee laced with sugar and vitamins was fed to the men through a copper tube inserted in the air pipe.

The men waited while the rescue crews dug through about 60 feet of debris. Then a hole appeared in the wall of rubble that had trapped the men and the rescuers appeared.

"We were all so happy to see them the whole bunch of us just started to cry," Guthro said.

The rescue raised hopes that other pockets of survivors would be found in the depths where 55 miners still are missing.

Their rescue brought to 93 the number saved. Twenty-six bodies have been recovered. There were 174 men below when disaster struck.

The news Wednesday that the 12 men had been located alive electrified the town, scene of two mine disasters in as many years. Church bells rang. Horns honked. Stores emptied. Families came running to the mine in a drizzle of rain, hoping and fearing.

Among them were those who already knew their men had died in the mine.

Even as they waited two more bodies were brought out from elsewhere in the mine.

Kempt already had whispered to his nephew Percy Weatherbee, the man who had tapped the air line with his pick, the names of the men trapped with him — Holloway, Brine, Leadbetter, Hunter, Rushton, Milley, Michniak, Maddison, Lowther, Guthro, McDonald.

"I asked 'How are you?' and Gorley answered,'We're good but we need water badly,' " Weatherbee reported.

The rescuers, some near exhaustion from almost continuous efforts since Thursday, dug again with superenergy.

They clawed and picked at the nearly 60-foot-thick barrier of upturned stone and debris.

As the men dug, warm coffee braced with sugar and vitamins was poured down the air line to the thirsty, trapped men. Finally, a narrow passage was opened and shored up and the imprisoned men began to crawl out.

Slowly the conveyor rake which normally brings up the coal began to turn, this time to bring the rescued men to the surface. There was an unexplained halt for a time, then, at 2:20 a.m., some 13 hours after the discovery, Kempt was the first man brought out.

Completely covered with a blanket to protect him from the weather and to shield his eyes from the glare of television and newsreel spotlights, he was carried to an ambulance and rushed to the hospital. Waiting at the pit head were his wife and two teen-age children.

The crowd cheered wildly.

The big wheels of the cable-operated conveyor moved at an agonizing pace for the crowd.

Rope barriers kept them back. Floodlights bathed the scene. Doctors waited.

Finally, an hour after Kempt was brought out, the man-carrying rake arrived at the top with Joe McDonald, who had suffered a broken leg, Theodore Michniak and Eldred Lowther.

Then in succession came Bowman Maddison, Levi Miller, Caleb Rushton, Wilfred Hunter, Hugo Guthro, who also was injured, Harold Brine, Joe Holloway Jr. and Larry Leadbetter.

The last four were carried out at 4:02 a.m.

At the hospital the rescued men were given plasma and Dr. J. G. B. Lynch, chief medical officer for the Dominion Steel and Coal Corp., reported all were conscious.

May Not Reach Jury Today

Trial Of 2 Former Policemen Delayed By Missing Witness

Instructions To Panel To Be Written

Judge Consents To Defense Step In Lieu Of Verbal Charge

Delays in the progress of the burglary trial of Ira Cunningham and Robert Carroll at Lisbon this morning made uncertain whether the case would go to the jury this afternoon.

The defense rested Wednesday afternoon in the trial of the two former officers charged with a 1952 burglary of the Smith & Phillips Co. store — one of nine indictments handed down against seven officers in 1956.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw asked to recall a defense witness—Lawrence Calder, 240 W. 6th St.—this morning when court convened, and a brief discussion was held with Judge Raymond Buzzard on the objection by the defense counsel, Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville.

Calder was a character witness for the defense yesterday afternoon.

Judge Buzzard granted the prosecutor permission to recall Calder, but the witness was not in the Courthouse. Brokaw said Calder had been notified last night to appear.

Court recessed until 10:05 to await Calder's arrival, then reconvened when he did not appear.

The Rev. M. Rudolph Miller of the First Presbyterian Church took the stand as a rebuttal witness for the prosecution, testifying on his knowledge of the reputation of Robert McBane, ex-officer who has pleaded guilty to eight of the nine police indictments.

McBane is the state's key witness in this trial, testifying that he, Carroll, Cunningham and Dallas Bishop, former special officer, entered the Washington St. store Oct. 19, 1952, and took merchandise.

Rev. Miller said people had been "shocked" at the disclosures of McBane's activities, but that his reputation for truth and veracity had not suffered because he had confessed to the crimes.

The defense has maintained throughout the trial that McBane

Fumes Overcome 25 Firefighters

Four Killed, Eight Injured In Cleveland Plant Blast

CLEVELAND (AP)—An explosion rumbled through an East Side factory today, killing four men, injuring eight and sending out poisonous fumes. Twenty-five firefighters were overcome.

The three-story plant of Erico Products, Inc., manufacturer of welding equipment, was the scene of the blast. The company employs about 100, including 40 women.

The dead were tentatively identified as Mel Redjak, a chemist; Ronald Turner, assistant chemist and technician; Nat Handle, a laborer, and William Ramsey.

The fire department reported a copper oxide powder used in the manufacturing process appeared to be the source of the fumes.

Battalion Chief Bernard Mulcahy was among the firefighters treated at Charity Hospital after inhaling fumes.

Men and women who were led from the building were given oxygen by two rescue squads which hurried to the scene.

Chief Mulcahy said there was little fire following the blast, which showered glass and bricks onto Carnegie Avenue.

Garland Fisher, 29, was treated for a cut on the forehead received when he was hit by a piece of glass. Two others given emergency treatment at Cleveland Clinic were reported suffering from glass cuts and smoke poisoning.

"I don't know what happened," Fisher said. "I was working in the stockroom when smoke suddenly came through the screen door. That's all I can remember."

Clyde Fabry, a stockroom foreman, was treated at the clinic for smoke inhalation.

Lou Gusiele, the plant's traffic manager, said he was seated at his desk when he saw a sudden flash followed by "a terrific explosion." He said the blast apparently was in the carpenter shop.

"I was knocked out of my chair," Gusiele added. "I can't imagine what exploded. The materials we work with are not combustible."

Hancock County voters will select candidates to fill three offices at the county level at Tuesday's general election.

Polling hours at the 37 precincts will be from 6:30 a. m. to 7:30 p. m.

Nominated for commissioner at the Aug. 5 primaries were William C. Graham of Chester, the Democratic incumbent, and John T. Allison, also of Chester, Republican.

Seeking a seat in the House of Delegates are two Weirton attorneys, Miss Callie Tsapis, a Democrat, and Donald R. Donell, Republican. Donell was unopposed in the primaries, while Atty. Tsapis unseated the incumbent, William Tompos.

GOP Poll Workers Will Be Instructed

WEIRTON—A school of instruction for Republican poll workers for Hancock County's general election Nov. 4 will be held tonight at 8 in the party headquarters at 3364 Main St.

Atty. Don Donell, candidate for the House of Delegates, will be instructor. James Ravoira is county chairman.

Board Urges Levy Passage At Wellsville

Wellsville voters will ballot on a new 3-mill school operating levy at Tuesday's election and the Board of Education today made an appeal for its passage.

The revenue will be designated for operating expenses but will be earmarked for salaries, according to Earl Bake, president. The levy will be for five years and will provide an estimated $27,000 annually.

This will give the teachers an estimated $300 increase. No other Wellsville school levies will be on the ballot this year.

Bake pointed out that in a recent survey it was found Wellsville has the lowest salary schedule in the surrounding district. A state report on salaries of 137 city school districts shows Wellsville listed in 134th place, Bake said.

Wellsville lost 10 teachers during the 1957-58 term with 5 going to better paying jobs in other districts.

Located as it is between East Liverpool and now Stanton Local, Wellsville will have a greater difficulty in recruiting new teachers, board members said. Stanton Local, through tax revenue from the Ohio Edison Co. power plant at Stratton, will soon be one of the richest districts in the state and will be able to bid for the best teachers, according to the board.

Bake said in the past Wellsville has been able to maintain a very good state rating in teacher training standards. "If some of these experienced and well-trained teachers should be lost to other districts, they would be very hard to replace at the present salary schedule," he said. Bake pointed out some schools are paying $300 to $500 more a year to instructors.

A 2.8-mill levy for operating expenses was adopted in Wellsville at the last general election. It was for operating expenses which increased after the Daw Junior High and MacDonald Schools were placed in use.

A 2-mill levy will be up for renewal in 1959 and another levy for slightly over 4 mills will be placed on the ballot for renewal in 1960.

2 Jailed Here Given Term In Federal Court

Counterfeit Passers Nabbed In July Get 2, 5-Year Stretches

Two Canadians nabbed in East Liverpool July 23 for passing counterfeit $20 bills have been sentenced to terms of 2 and 5 years, respectively, in Federal District Court at Cleveland, the police department was advised today by the U. S. Secret Service.

Matthew Joseph Campbell, 29, of Hamilton, Ont., was sentenced to 5 years in a federal prison for passing worthless currency and his companion, Anthony Iata, 37, of Toronto, was given 2 years for illegal entry into the United States, the Secret Service said.

The sentences were pronounced by Federal Judge Paul C. Weick. Iata will serve his time in the Federal Correctional Institution at Milan, Mich. The place where Campbell will be confined has not been determined, the Secret Service said.

In connection with the sentencing, the police department was commended for its part in the case by the agent in charge of the Secret Service field force at Cleveland.

In a letter to Safety - Service Director Dan Maggianetti, he said: "I wish to take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks for the assistance of members of your police force, especially Chief Americo Radeschi, Lt. Clyde W. Boso and Patrolmen Charles E. Tice and William W. Dunn, in the apprehension of the defendants. Your co-operation in this matter in the suppression of counterfeiting activities is greatly appreciated."

The chain of events that led to the arrest began when Campbell entered a Washington St. restaurant, purchased a drink and two cigars, and handed a waitress one of the phony $20's. When the waitress took the bill to show it to the proprietor, Campbell darted out the door and headed for the car he and Iata were using.

Seeing the man in flight, Lt. Boso became suspicious and followed him. He nabbed Campbell and Iata as they got into their car for a getaway. The men admitted entering the U. S. a few days earlier with $5,000 in bogus currency, police said.

New Welfare Director Set At Wellsville

Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville today announced the resignation of Mrs. Louise Leggett as city welfare director and the appointment of her successor.

Mrs. Frances Dornick, 628 15th St., will assume the fulltime duties of welfare director Monday. Mrs. Leggett's resignation is effective Saturday.

Mrs. Leggett has served in the post since January 1954, when she was appointed by Shoub to replace Mrs. Rose McGuchin. Mrs. Leggett said she resigned since she and her husband now have a new home on Route 39 outside the Wellsville city limits. She said she will devote her time to being a "fulltime housewife."

Mrs. Dornick, wife of Herman Dornick, Wellsville coal dealer, worked as a WPA food distributor, has served with the Red Cross and has been an election poll worker. The Dornicks have a son.

Beadle, Tatum, Lederberg Cited

3 In U.S. Win Nobel Prize In Medicine, Physiology

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Three American scientists won the 1958 Nobel Prize in Medicine and Physiology today for solving some of the basic riddles of heredity.

Their discoveries were credited by a member of the prize-awarding body with opening new avenues in cancer research.

The winners are Dr. George Wells Beadle, 55, of the California Institute of Technology; E. L. Tatum, 49, of New York's Rockefeller Institute; and Joshua Lederberg, 33, of the University of Wisconsin.

The Royal Caroline Institute of Medicine said half the $41,420 prize would go jointly to Beadle and Tatum "for their discovery that genes act by regulating specific chemical processes."

The other half went to Lederberg "for his discoveries concerning genetic recombination and the organization of the genetic material of bacteria.

"Genetic recombination" is a term for sexual fertilization in the bacterial world. Lederberg found that from the geneticists' point of view, "this corresponds exactly to the normal sexual fertilization in higher organisms."

Describing the work of the prize winners, Prof. Torbjorn Casperson of the Caroline Institute said the research of Beadle and Tatum in the early 1940s "led to the discovery that the individual gene acts by directing individual steps in the course of chemical synthesis in the cell. All the substances in the cell are built up step by step in a long series of synthesizing processes.

"The individual steps are governed by individual genes by their regulation of the production of specific enzymes for each separate step."

Casperson, himself a world authority on genetics, said this discovery "offered the first chance to understand the mode of action of the genes" and is one of the foundations of modern genetics.

Their research was based largely on a red bread mold called neurospora crassa, which Beadle described as "one of the most useful genetic guinea pigs."

Any strain of this mold can be multiplied a million times in a couple of days without genetic change.

Using swiftly multiplying bacteria as genetic guinea pigs is viewed as one of the great advances in gentics.

Members of DAV Chapter 47 will meet tonight 7:30 p. m. at D. A. V. Home 415 Market St. for services, for Ted Pethel. — Ad.

Hancock Road Opened After Long Project

Route 66 in Hancock County—closed 17 months for extensive construction including widening and re-routing — was opened for traffic at noon today.

O. A. Trout, engineer of District 6 at Moundsville, told officials at the State Highway Garage at Pughtown that barricades were to be removed today to permit full traffic on the 2.3-mile project between Newell and New Cumberland.

Heavy equipment of the W. A. Wilson & Sons Construction Co., began the extensive construction project in May 1957. Completion of the $569,169 project is expected within the next few days, with only guardrails on one side of the roadway still to be installed.

Improvements began on a stretch of road south of Waterford Park and included re-routing as far as the New Cumberland city limits, eliminating a dangerous hairpin turn near the Crescent Brick Co.

Centerlines and sidelines have been painted on the asphaltic surface. Trout urged motorists to "use extreme caution" as guardrails are not yet installed on a "very dangerous west side of the road."

On new grades, the road will be 36 feet wide with 2 lanes for traffic heading north and one lane for descending traffic. The road is 24 feet wide between grades. Heavy traffic to Waterford Park was rerouted over secondary roads during the construction period.

Absentee Vote May Total 500

4 P.M. Deadline Set For Civilian Ballots

Civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots issued for Tuesday's general election are expected to total nearly 500 at the deadline this afternoon at 4.

Persons who obtain the ballots in the last-minute rush have until noon Friday to return them to the County Election Board's office on W. 6th St. The ballots will be distributed to the proper precincts when the board passes out election supplies for polling places.

At the start of business this morning, the Election Board had issued 462 of the civilian ballots. It also had distributed 97 under the Ohio "soldier voting" law to persons in the armed forces or civilians residing temporarily outside the United States.

Under state law, the so - called "soldier ballots" may be issued until noon Saturday. They may be returned as late as noon on Election Day.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, said the demand for early ballots is "heavy," but will not break any records. He pointed out that the board issued 1,198 in all for the 1956 general election—900 civilian ballots and 298 to service personnel.

What The Tax Means To You

When the many dividends are balanced against the small individual investment, it is inconceivable that East Liverpool voters with the community's and their own future at heart could fail to retain the present city income tax when they go the polls Tuesday.

Let's review some of the things the tax has provided to date in the way of an improved municipal operation and what more it will provide if continued.

ALREADY ACCOMPLISHED

All city employes have been given a much-deserved 10 per cent pay increase.

The Police Department has been brought closer to proper strength, with nine men added.

The Fire Department has been brought closer to proper strength. It is now possible to man the outlying fire stations in Pleasant Heights, East End and North Side.

A full-time and competent dog warden has been employed and a modern sanitary dog pound constructed and a truck purchased.

Four men have been added to the Street Department to help in urgent repair work, oiling and seal-coating and sewer cleaning.

The sanitary inspection staff of the Board of Health has been brought closer to proper strength for a city of this size.

The main doors on Central Fire station are being repaired.

A distributor truck was purchased for the application of oil to unpaved streets and for the application of tar for seal-coating and for actual blacktop paving.

School crossing guards have been restored.

Some 1,700 children received the third polio shot free of charge through the use of tax funds.

Nineteen streets have been seal-coated, thus protecting the investment of property owners who previously invested more than 90 per cent of the cost of black-topping those particular streets.

All unpaved streets and most unpaved alleys were treated with oil of proper quality to insure control of dust and improvement of the road surface.

WHAT WILL BE DONE

Main arterial streets, such as St. Clair Ave., Avondale, Anderson Blvd., Maine Blvd., Pennsylvania Ave. and E. 3rd St. from Market St. to the Chester bridge (the city's responsibility under the freeway) will be improved, with the property owners' share of the work reduced to the reasonable percentages now being assessed in other progressive communities, where such charges seldom exceed 50 per cent of the cost.

The city's share of the cost of the new freeway can be financed through the issuance of short-term bonds instead of having to follow the usual procedure of issuing costly long-term bonds that could double the cost of the project.

Funds will be provided for urgent and imperative city planning that the government insists upon before it will make available any federal funds for urban development.

Storm sewers and additional trunk sanitary sewers that are needed for the health and welfare of the community will be provided.

Additional street maintenance and paving equipment will be obtained.

Retaining walls along Pennsylvania Ave. will be re-conditioned to remove the present threat of collapse.

Off-street parking areas will be developed at convenient locations to relieve congestion of streets.

The North Side fire station will be condemned and replaced.

A recreation program and additional facilities at Thompson Park and other areas throughout the city will be provided.

Streets will be kept cleaner through procurement of more efficient equipment and personnel.

A new fire truck pumper will be provided.

That is the picture The accomplishments to date have been many and those in the future will be even greater.

Civic-mindedness, not petty grievance, should control your thinking when you vote Tuesday.

Egyptian Affair On The Nile

We are puzzled, and some of the statesmen involved in the Aswan Dam on the Nile must be puzzled, too, by the latest funny arithmetic being used to describe the status of this slow-burning issue.

Back in 1956, when John Foster Dulles caused a sensation by lopping off all further talk about U.S. aid for the Aswan Dam, the thing was going to cost 1.3 billion dollars. It was going to be started, presumably, by 200 million dollars from the International Bank, something like 56 million in U.S. foreign aid and a few million dollars from Britain.

When the string was pulled on the whole idea by Secretary of State Dulles in midsummer, the Soviet Union first rushed in with an offer to underwrite the whole thing with a 20-year loan at 2 per cent interest, then rushed out just as fast with a denial that it had offered to do any such thing. A Russian diplomat named Shepilov, who was supposed to have wrapped up the deal, subsequently quit showing up at official functions and is now doing his homework in obscurity.

Nothing much has been said about the Aswan Dam since then, other than the customary spate of criticism of Mr. Dulles by the customary critics, who have blamed him for the deterioration of Middle East security because he turned against the Aswan Dam in 1956.

Then, out of a clear sky, it is announced by Nikita Khrushchev that his government will put up 100 million dollars in bookkeeping credit for the Aswan Dam. This looks like a belated face-saver.

But in the United States, the editorial reaction is that Egypt's President Nasser has sold out to the Soviet Union, lock, stock and damsite.

This is as puzzling as the arithmetic. How could 100 million dollars in bookkeeping credit to an Egyptian government that is struggling with a solvency problem move enough dirt to hold up a gallon of Nile River water? How could 100 million dollars of iffy financing tie Egypt to Moscow, imperil the sovereignty of Israel, promote pan-Arabism, or even threaten the cotton belt of the United States? That, as some will remember, was one of the more realistic reasons for U.S. withdrawal of its offer to help Egypt climb out of poverty by harnessing its greatest potential natural resource — the Nile River — and getting more land under irrigation.

Until something more tangible than a 100-million-dollar figure is mentioned, the Aswan Dam will have to be filed with that famous tidewater dam up in Maine — the one the New Deal always was threatening to build but never did.

It was a fine talking point when conversation lagged, but that was all.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The campaign ghost writer was in conference with the advertising firm of Sniffen, Groper, Fooch, Mutter & Mumble on the candidate's impending speech. "There must be an opening sentence emphasizing a long-wearing, tension-resistant, friendly candidate available in giant size," said Sniffen.

"The opposition has that one," said the ghost writer. "How about our man opening up with the appeal 'Make this the merriest Christmas ever with a foreign policy that removes all spots and keeps things sparkling'?"

"No punch," said Groper. "I like a sure-fire early paragraph promising the all-purpose, high-powered China program with no painful ingredients."

"The policy that fits every mood and is a cool refresher with stereophonic sound," suggested Fooch.

"What I really need is something that will package our man's tax program attractively," said the ghost writer. "What do you think of a paragraph in which he will point up that four out of five doctors recommend his bugetary remedies in all cases of confusion and severe headache?"

Mutter and Mumble at this point jumped in declaring for the inclusion of something about swivel seats making it easier to get out of high brackets and into lower ones.

"VERY GOOD," cried the G.W. "I can add it to that part of the speech where he promises a tax policy that will soothe raw nerves, give five-way relief to people suffering from tax forms and guarantee better traction when trying to figure out where they stand."

"We must get something in the speech about our man being king size with panoramic vision and a fast pickup," insisted Sniffin.

"The other side is scoring with that line about their candidate coming in a new and smarter yet safe and sturdy model," said the ghost writer. "Do you think our boy should promise an agricultural policy that functions under water and across a buttered surface?"

"We haven't a thing in our speeches about a candidate who kills bacteria," complained Fooch. "There is not a word about voting now and paying later."

Suddenly Mr. Mutter, who had been called to the phone, returned crestfallen and startled. "Our opponents have done it," he cried. "They're PROMISING GREEN TRADING STAMPS WITH THEIR CANDIDATE!!"

Mrs. Roosevelt on "Meet the Press" abruptly brushed off Sen. Kennedy as 1960 presidential candidate, arousing much criticism by expressing belief the country wouldn't be ready for a Roman Catholic president by 1960. Scoring De Sapio and boss orders in political campaigns, Mrs. R. was asked, "How about the time when Mr. Roosevelt gave the clear-it-with-Sidney order which knocked Mr. Byrnes out of the race?" and she replied. "I don't think it was quite that way."

Peter Ustinov gave an amusing performance in burlesque on "Omnibus" hour. "We intend to give this program every week until the public gets some idea what it's all about," he cracked.

Blocking His View

The Cheers Are Still There For Adams

By Victor Riesel

CONCORD, N.H.

An ex-Marine is returning home from the wars — the political wars. For him there need be no worry that silence will drown out the cheers of old re-echoing off the craggy mounts of familiar places. For Sherman Adams the cheers are still there. In the state he left to sound the first hurrah for Dwight Eisenhower, the silver frost will melt on Adams' face. Here he is no political issue. No one of the opposition runs against him.

Victor Riesel

Here his neighbors want him. They cheered 'round and 'round last Thursday night by the hundreds when his name was mentioned casually at a rally which was as political as the National Assn. for Conservation of the Whooping Crane.

They seldom gather in heavy crowds here on the road to the ski tow. But Thursday evening some 700 townsfolk did come together for a celebration, the nature of which is not important here.

These were men and women from the down road textile mills, the huge printing plant, the little stores, and the new plants making electronic equipment. They were working people.

SO NON-POLITICAL was the assemblage that the Republican gubernatorial candidate, Wesley Powell, sat around the corner in his store front campaign headquarters but would not desecrate the moment with an appearance and handshake.

Yet when the speaker of the evening noted that the last time he was in Concord he had talked with Gov. Adams, the house fell in. Jimmy Durante couldn't have torn it up more — with or without old Clayton and Jackson.

Later the visitor from New York asked political questions — would l'affaire Adams lose this Republican stronghold? Scores said, "no." Not even the labor people and the Democrats were using the issue against the GOP.

What would Mr. Adams be doing now that life begins anew at 60 for the former civilian chief of staff? He would not stay long in his home state was the report.

There were those who had talked with President Eisenhower at Gettysburg not too long ago. They had been told that Sherman Adams was seriously considering offers from several governments to aid development of their foreign trade.

ONE REPORT had it that the "country involved could be Morocco or some neighboring land." They have big funds for the development of trade and tourist relations with the U.S. and other nations.

These underdeveloped countries have pointed out that this could mean safe investment of American capital, higher standards in the homeland and new jobs in the U.S.

In such pursuits Mr. Adams has had considerable experience. He had always been for reciprocal trade and loans to foreign lands.

One "neighbor" said it might go the other way. He pointed out that back in 1947 Mr. Adams represented the American pulpwood industry. For two years he pushed for good trade relations with Canada.

This was really an Adams' specialty — foreign trade relations. So there might be some large American corporation seeking to develop contacts with other lands.

It should not be forgotten that Mr. Adams still is one of the nation's most influential men. For at least another two years, he can reach the President of the United States. For another two years, he still can reach some of the President's intimates whose financial interests are worldwide.

AND WHAT DID the labor people think? Some of them, speaking off-the-record, recalled that one of the first moves Sherman Adams made as governor was to set up a joint committee to bring new industry into the state.

When Adams took over in '51, just about the time he began promoting Gen. Eisenhower for president, he found plenty of time to call in the state's most influential businessmen.

They launched the New Hampshire Business Development Corp. They looked at the ancient plants, some of which may have been ramparts against the British, and encouraged new construction to replace the relics.

In seven months they had a fund of four million dollars to promote the prosperity of the state.

Today there are mighty few jobless, especially for a textile workers' area.

They point out the new plants as you drive by and tell you that Sherman Adams is mighty welcome back home.

The Noises Disappear

By Truman Twill

When the last noise of summer is gone, these are the sounds I miss most:

The kee-runk of a horseshoe settling into place around an iron stake;

The chee-chee of the birds when the morning sun warms them up for another day;

The half-heard broadcast of a baseball game through open doors and windows along the street;

The purr of power mowers neatening the grass in residential neighborhoods;

A wisp of music from the radio in a passing convertible, with the top down;

The high-pitched chatter of kids at play in back yards;

The thud of hammers and the whine of power saws coming across the fields in the country, where unseen construction is going on;

Animated discussions of their golf games by the sports who cluster around the office drinking fountain;

The age-old communication system of the canine world in the hours of darkness, with half a dozen dogs barking their messages to one another over miles of space;

The call to worship of country church bells on bright Sunday mornings;

The bellowing of pastured cattle in the long evenings, when darkness is closing in;

Murmurs of conversation from porches and patios where families and neighbors have gathered for interludes of relaxation;

The clatter of air-hammers in the competent hands of the specialists who break up what other specialists have constructed;

The growl of automobiles scudding over the steel-mesh floors of bridges;

Early-morning reveilles of wakeful roosters waking up their flocks for another day of scratching;

The whir of roller skates;

The rhythmic thud of hay-balers compressing next winter's hay supply;

The splashing of water and the squealing of bathers in a swimming pool;

The melodic shrieking of robins before and after rainstorms;

Peals of distant thunder in June and July;

The clunk of a newspaper being expertly thrown on to a porch by a newspaperboy on a bicycle;

The babel of starlings settling into a well stocked cherry tree.

When summer is gone, these sounds are heard no more. They vanish, or are muffled by closed windows and doors. Or they are lost in the rush of the winds and the pelting rain.

It will be a long time before an exuberant cardinal sits on top of the highest oak tree and whistles the arrival of another springtime.

Letters To The Editor

Last Thursday night in the Diamond there were two policemen directing traffic — one directly under each traffic light.

I question whether this was necessary. If we have a surplus of police — and we must have since the merchants have fired their night man which saves them $8 each a month — we in the outlying districts could use more protection.

We never see a policeman and only once in a great while will a cruiser come by. And, of course, we pay as much tax as the merchants, but we sure don't get the same returns. Now they say they want more police. Please tell me what for!

Are we to become a police state? If we have such a force, they surely will push someone around. I surely am not pleased with what has been done with our tax.

Relative to the city income tax, we all know the city employes needed a pay raise and the city more revenue. Perhaps the income tax was the best way to raise the money.

If we had not been in a bad recession and Council had asked the people for the tax, I think they would have granted it. They voted taxes for the new schools. Your paper said the officials are doing a good job. But I ask you: If the last administration had reached into the people's pockets and taken the money without their consent, and without bringing in high - priced people from out of town, couldn't it have done as well?

If the people stand for this, what's to stop any Council in the future from upping it a little more every time they think they need more money?

Particularly, I wish to express my appreciation to the Dow-Lin Coal Co. of Hookstown and the Shippingport Sand and Gravel Co., both of which halted operations to help us; the Salvation Army of East Liverpool; Paul Rohm, mine foreman for Dow-Lin, who took charge of rescue operations, and the Monaca and Shippingport fire departments.

The Scripts Are Written

By David Lawrence

Russians Get Ready To Interpret U.S. Vote

The Russian radio stations probably have their scripts already written for the day after next week's congressional election in the United States.

David Lawrence

All they have to do is to read the current polls and public opinion surveys published in the American press.

The Soviet broadcast doubtless will say that the American people, by giving the Democrats control of Congress by an even bigger margin than before, have repudiated the Eisenhower administration's foreign policy.

Despite the efforts to keep foreign policy out of the campaign, certain spokesmen of the Democratic party who are prominent members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee have publicly questioned the rights of the President to defend the Quemoy and Matsu islands and have called for congressional action to checkmate the administration.

The Communists in recent weeks have been playing along with their off-again-on-again cease-fire in the Far East but, with the American election over and the headlines telling of a big victory for the opposition party in the United States, the Soviets will unquestionably proclaim in the Communist world and to the peoples of the neutralist countries that Mr. Eisenhower's leadership has been disparaged by a majority of his own people.

THIS POSSIBLE development was, of course, one of the reasons why, even inside the Democratic party, leaders like former President Truman warned against making our Far Eastern policy an issue in the current campaign.

Now, however, the fat is in the fire and the statements issued by other Democrats, plus the election results, will be construed as meaning that the Far Eastern policy of the administration may be reversed.

The big question is whether, after next week's election, the Communists will venture to test out or challenge the American government's position by making a military effort to wrest the off-shore islands and possibly Formosa from the control of the Nationalist Chinese.

This could be a miscalculation which might lead to the outbreak of a big war.

The next two or three weeks, therefore, may prove a crucial time in American history because the Communists may decide soon whether they will press their aggression now that "peace at any price" seems to be so popular in this country.

Actually, so far as votes for individual congressmen or senators are concerned the outcome of the election will not have been influenced in any material degree by foreign policy. Congressional elections are primarily local and are affected mostly by economic issues.

But the writers of the Soviet propaganda do not feel any obligation to analyze accurately the significance of American elections.

THE EUROPEAN mind is accustomed anyhow to thinking in parliamentary terms. When the political party of a premier or prime minister is defeated in a general election, it usually means the downfall of that particular leader as well as his party. It is not as widely known in the world as it should be that the Constitution of the United States provides for a four-year term for the presidency and that for the next two years the Republican party will control the executive branch, with the power to conduct foreign relations.

The assent of Congress is needed for treaties and appropriations. The cooperation of the Democratic party in the last two years on vital points of foreign policy will doubtless be continued in the coming session of Congress.

The Communists, however, will describe the election results as meaning that the administration has lost a "vote of confidence" at the polls. This particular phrase has wide significance abroad.

IT WILL BE necessary for some of the leaders of the Democratic party to begin preparing now to make statements pledging cooperation with the administration on foreign policy so as to offset the adverse effects of the Communist propaganda throughout the world.

So far as countries like England are concerned, the amenities of courteous comment will be preserved, to be sure, but behind the scenes there will be gratification over the election results. For in Britain the Democratic party of the United States is considered the one that will spend generously, lend lavishly and send more American billions abroad than the Republicans might be expected to do.

Though they admire Ike, many of the British newspapers, for materialistic reasons, were hoping in both the 1952 and 1956 elections that Adlai Stevenson would win the presidency and some of them frankly said so.

What the world will think of the American election results doesn't seem at present important to many voters in this country. Resentments over high taxes, "civil rights" issues and the economic recession unfortunately will sway the voters this time far more than any concern over the fact that, by their votes, they will be injuring the prestige of their own country before the world.

Materialism seems to have superseded idealism—and this, too, in an era which is supposed to have outgrown provincialism and to have achieved instead a world-wide perspective.

No Bolt In Sight

By Ralph McGill

ATLANTA

It now has become as certain as things may be in the uncertain lives of men that there will be no Southern third party bolt in 1960.

The wish to bolt is strong. But it will be put down by the weight of political realities.

The technique of nominating favorite sons and staying by them all the way is now the most favored convention plan. This may give way to a decision to concentrate on one cotton-south nominee and center all possible votes on him, refusing the routine plea to make it unanimous, once the national nominee is chosen.

The first step of the planned technique would keep the dissenters in the convention and make impossible any charge of bolting.

The second step would be to withhold electoral votes from the party's nominee by casting them in the meeting of the electoral college for the favorite sons or for a single Southern candidate, if such a decision replaces that of the multiple "favorites."

Sponsors of this strategy argue, with some logic, that while they might be charged with disloyalty or desertion they could not be indicted for bolting or setting up a third party.

Those who are bitterly and openly at war with the national Democratic organization presently are determined to avoid a third-party label as if it were poison. This is natural. That is what it is. It is deadly poison to the political forces involved.

It generally is understood that a bolt will not be forgiven as it was after the 1948 election.

Unless the Democrats of the North and West fail to achieve unity in the convention, they should win without "favorite son" states. If they should wreck the party of the North and West, then the Republicans under Vice President Nixon will retain the White House.

But no bolt or third party is in prospect.

Due In Alaska Over Weekend

Nixon Turns To Corn Belt In Final Vote Drive Effort

By The Associated Press

Vice President Nixon returned to the Corn Belt today as he headed west on his final bid for election of a Republican Congress in next Tuesday's voting.

Nixon, en route to a weekend of campaigning in Alaska, stopped overnight in Chicago before traveling to Fort Dodge, Iowa, and Wichita, Kan., today.

His Friday schedule takes him to Billings, Mont., and Everett, Wash., before he heads for Alaska. Voters of the prospective 49th state will name two U.S. senators and a representative in a special election Nov. 25.

Campaigning in California Wednesday night, Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler renewed his suggestion that Democrats who won't support a civil rights plank in 1960 get out of the party.

Butler told a news conference at West Covina that Democrats who couldn't go along with such a plank should either stay in the party and try to put over their own viewpoint—or support a Republican ticket or a third-party movement or stay home and not vote.

At Greenwich, Conn., GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn ripped anew into what he called Democratic "radicals."

"Would you rather have government in the hands of the left-wing gang or see it in the hands of the Republican party?" he asked a GOP rally.

President George Meany of the AFL-CIO appeared to hit mostly at Republican campaigners in telling a nationwide radio audience he wanted to "puncture the big labor political scare balloon of 1958."

But he mentioned neither parties nor candidates by name in assailing what he called campaign talk that organized labor is trying to take the nation down the road to socialism. Speaking from Washington, Meany said:

"The hidden purpose behind this cry of socialism, and such phrases as leading America 'down the left lane' is to plant in the minds of the American people the idea that labor is pro-Communist.

"This is an unforgivable and completely unjustified trick."

Trial

is not telling the truth and is merely testifying to "save his neck."

Court again recessed at 10:15 to enable Judge Buzzard to prepare a written charge to the jury at the request of the defense. A written charge is unusual, most charges being given verbally and retained by the jury only in memory.

Atty. Alexander said he wished the panel of eight women and four men to have written interpretations of the law from the judge in their deliberations.

Closing arguments by both sides were delayed pending preparation of the charge. Arguments were expected to be delivered this afternoon, followed by the charge to the jury — if time permitted.

Both Cunningham and Carroll yesterday denied ever entering the store in a burglary, and inferred McBane's implication of them in the crime was false.

Asked by Atty. Sam Fekett, co-defense counsel, if he had broken into the store, Carroll replied, "I never did."

Cunningham, asked the same question, replied emphatically, "I certainly was not in that store that night or any night."

Asked by Fekett about McBane's reputation for truthfulness, Cunningham answered, "I'd say he lies."

Under cross - examination by Prosecutor Brokaw, Cunningham again denied the burglary, and said McBane was lying in his testimony. Brokaw asked him if he had not once told an investigator, "Mr. Brokaw is not dealing with kids, now," Cunningham said he had.

Cunningham related how he first was taken into custody, after he was asked by Brokaw why he had demanded an attorney to represent him.

The ex-officer said that in March 1956 he had been to a drugstore to have a prescription filled for his son, when he noticed a police cruiser parked near his home. He approached it, he said, and recognized Patrolman Chester Brown. He said Patrolman Charles (Bill) Tice then came out from behind some bushes "with a gun" and asked him to go into his house. Inside was Officer Clyde Boso, then a patrolman.

Cunningham said he asked the three officers what it was all about, and they told him, " 'We can't tell you'." Cunningham said he realized he was under arrest and asked his wife to phone Atty. George Aronson. He said he wanted a lawyer because of the treatment he was being given.

He said he "would have gladly gone down to the City Hall if they had telephoned me — I got up all hours of the night to go out for duty."

Brokaw asked Cunningham if he recalled requesting McBane to change his plea. "I don't think so. . .I can't recall, it's been a long time to remember correctly," he answered.

Under further questioning, the defendant said Bishop, Carroll and Stuttler had met at various times at his home.

Cunningham said the others "just dropped in." "Did you meet to plan your defense?" Brokaw asked. "I'm not an attorney, Mr. Brokaw." "But didn't you have regular meetings to discuss these trials?" Cunningham answered, "We didn't have regular meetings, like Friday night at 8 o'clock. I don't keep a lodge, Mr. Brokaw. Whenever they wanted to drop in, they were welcome, just as you'd be welcome too, if you dropped in."

Atty. Fekett later brought out in questioning Cunningham, there had been gatherings of the defendants and counsel at Cunningham's house to discuss legal matters, since neither attorney had offices in East Liverpool.

In cross - examination of Carroll, the defendant said he had talked to McBane on occasion since the police investigation. He also told of visiting Bishop at the County Jail with Louis Stuttler, shortly after the ex - special officer was taken into custody in 1956. Carroll said his discussions with the two men was only "to find out what was going on and what I was charged with and when I was supposed to have done it."

Stuttler is another former officer charged in the police burglary indictments and slated for trial this term.

Questioned by Brokaw, Carroll said Atty. Fekett was his counsel. "Isn't Mr. Alexander Mr. Bishop's attorney?" Carroll said, "Yes," but Atty. Alexander objected, "If Mr. Brokaw wants a list of my clients, all right, but I do not believe that is relative to this case."

Cunningham later said both Fekett and Alexander were his counsel.

Appearing as character witnesses yesterday were Harold Fry of Grandview Ave., a city fireman and acquaintance of Carroll; Mrs. Margaret Hunter, 812 Chester Ave., a neighbor of Cunningham, and Calder, who vouched for Cunningham.

Fry and Donald Taucher of Lisbon St., former special officer, said they knew McBane and that his reputation for veracity was "bad."

In the tradition of something old, Miss Ada M. Guyton wore her maternal grandmother's ring on her right hand at her wedding Saturday afternoon to F. Michael Shore in Washington.

The bride is the daughter of Robert P. Guyton, 3123 St. Clair Ave. The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Shore of Walla Walla, Wash.

The double-ring rites at 4 o'clock were performed by the Rev. J. Warren Hastings, pastor of the National City Christian Church.

Baskets of white chrysanthemums, ferns, silver candelabra and white tapers were arranged to form an altar setting for the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Jenkins.

A half-hour piano recital, concluding with Mendlesohn's wedding march, was presented by James Smith of Washington, a friend of the couple.

The father of the bride gave her in marriage. Her afternoon gown of queen's blue satin was designed with an empire bodice, the raised waistline defined by soft bows which accented the front drape of the tiered skirt. She wore matching queen's blue satin pumps and carried her white bridal orchids on a blue satin clutchbag. A bridal cap of white feathers and iridescent blue earrings in leaf design completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Ethel Lynn Wambaugh, 907 Ohio Ave., was matron of honor. She wore a silk and wool crepe sheath of queen's blue and emerald print, designed with a stand-away, draped collar. Her corsage was of brierclif roses.

Calvin Jenkins served as best man.

Mrs. Guyton, step-mother of the bride, wore a violet and black crepe gown with matching hat and gloves, and her corsage was of orchids.

A reception for 40 followed at the Jenkins' home. Miss Ethel Guyton, aunt of the bride, was an aide and Mrs. Guyton served the cake. Miss Catherine Flynn of Oxon Hill, Md., friend of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. Miss Flynn is formerly of East Liverpool and Newell.

A four-tier white and silver cake, topped with the traditional bridal couple, centered the buffet table, which was spread with an heirloom Madiera cloth. White chrysanthemums and lighted tapers in a pair of five-branch silver candelabra completed the setting.

Wedding guests were from Washington, Arlington and Falls Church, Va., Cheverly, Bethesda, Silver Springs, Hyattsville, Vienna and Oxon Hill, Md., Charlotte, N.C., San Francisco and East Liverpool.

Following the reception, the bride's parents and Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins entertained at a buffet supper for 16 in the recreation room of the Jenkins home.

Tables were decorated with chrysanthemums in fall colors.

After an Eastern honeymoon, the couple will be at home after Monday at 1803 19th St., N.W., Washington. For traveling, the bride wore an emerald green wool jersey suit with brown accessories.

Friday evening, Miss Flynn and Mrs. Wambaugh held the rehearsal dinner for the bridal party at the Flynn home. The dinner table was decorated with an arrangement of white and yellow pompoms flanked by white tapers in silver candlesticks. Places for eight were marked by porcelain angel figurines bearing cards.

Ohio State vs. Michigan

O'Neill Keeping Campaign On Football Season Theme

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill is keeping his campaign for re-election on an appropriate football season theme: Ohio State vs. Michigan.

In a half-hour talk televised from KYW-TV Thursday night, the eve of a visit by AFL-CIO vice president Walter Reuther to Cincinnati, O'Neill asserted:

"The choice in Ohio this year is whether we shall continue the kind of government in Ohio that has been given to us by Bricker, Taft and Lausche and score of our public servants in lesser offices, or shall we be annexed to Michigan and become a satellite in the orbit of Hoffa, Reuther and Co."

The Marietta Republican compared Ohio and Michigan this way:

Per capita tax—Ohio $75; Michigan $94.

Unemployment — Ohio 5.4 per cent; Michigan 14 per cent.

Finances—Ohio 30 million dollars "unencumbered cash surplus;" Michigan "a staggering deficit."

"One of the first steps toward taking over Ohio by Hoffa and Reuther is to take over the Democratic Party as has happened in Michigan," O'Neill declared.

"The platform has already been adopted, the candidate has already back them up on right-to-work and on their platform, and now thousands of dollars are being expended from union members' dues without their consent, and in many instances against their will, to put over the candidates and take over the party.

"That is not good for the Democrats in Ohio. It is not good for the Republicans, and it is not good for the state. Old line Democrats and conservative Democrats will find themselves out in the cold, without a party, because their leadership has done something it has refused always before to do in this state—that is—sold out to Hoffa, Reuther and Co. and their lieutenants in Ohio."

If the proposal to regulate union contracts passes, O'Neill said, "There may be some men who will accept the benefits and refuse to join, as there were a few gold bricks in the Army and as there are a few in all organizations who will not shoulder their full responsibility. But I say to you that the price of freedom may be a few free loaders, but the price of compulsion is dictatorship by Hoffa, Reuther and Co."

At State Convention

West Virginia Teachers To Hear Former Russian

CHARLESTON (AP) — A former Russian subject will be the principal speaker in Municipal Auditorium here tonight during the second general session of the annual West Virginia Education Assn. convention.

West Virginia's public school children will enjoy a long weekend because of the annual function. The teachers will have spent most of their time in workshops or section meetings when the convention ends tomorrow afternoon.

Nila Magidoff will trace her personal life from Siberia to Broadway in tonight's feature. She is the co-author of the book, "Nila."

Pulitzer Prize winner Mark Van Doren addressed the first general sessions of the convention this morning. Van Doren is a prominent poet and Columbia University faculty member. His address was entitled, "Toward a Revival of Learning."

State School Supt. R. Virgil Rohrbough and Phares E. Reeder, WVEA executive secretary, also appeared during the first general session in Charleston's auditorium.

Gov. Cecil H. Underwood will deliver his message to the teachers at the concluding session tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. Gov. and Mrs. Underwood held a reception at the executive mansion today.

The WVEA officially recognized Melinda Morris, 20-year-old senior at West Virginia University, as future teacher of the year during the opening of the convention."

The Church of Sweden has now voted to permit women to become ordained ministers.

Tired, Confident, Bricker Takes Bid Into Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Tired but confident, Sen. John W. Bricker came here Thursday night in a 12-hour trip from Columbus via Toledo to begin a four-day appeal for votes in the home city of his opponent, Stephen M. Young.

At a meeting of 300 Republican fund-raisers, he got a strong boost from Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, U. S. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Dr. Flemming, former Ohio Wesleyan University president, mentioned only Bricker and Gov. C. William O'Neill by name in urging hard work to elect the entire GOP ticket.

"President Eisenhower needs Sen. Bricker," the cabinet member said. "The members of President Eisenhower's cabinet need Sen. Bricker.

"The Republican Party needs Sen. Bricker as it girds itself for the 1960 presidential campaign — a campaign that will undoubtedly determine the future course of our nation for years to come."

Boys Finally 'Elect' Mayor In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—A deadlock held up the start of Cincinnati's City Council meeting Thursday but the councilmen had nothing to do with it.

In observance of "Boys Week", nine high school boys had been selected as youthful "city councilmen" to sit in with their counterparts during the meeting. They had to elect a mayor, of course, to sit with Mayor Donald F. Clancy.

Noontime came and the nine boy councilmen had cast 11 ballots for mayor but no one had received the necessary six votes. The boys went to lunch.

When they came back it took four more ballots before James Dakin, a Hughes High School senior, was elected.

Meanwhile the real city councilmen were champing at the bit—they wanted to get on with their work but they had to wait until the boys picked their mayor.

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — A bunch of the boys were giving a bachelor party for Donald Bloomer, who will be married Saturday. To symbolize marital bliss, they took a 16-pound bowling ball and chained it to his leg. During the festivities the key was lost. Bloomer was finally freed by police.

Two Testify About Stocks

Say Nuzzo Tried To Sell Stolen Property

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two witnesses have testified John N. Nuzzo Jr., 35, of Cleveland, tried here last July to sell $84,259 worth of stock certificates stolen two months earlier from a retired Lancaster, Pa., doctor.

Federal Judge Paul C. Weick, before whom Nuzzo is on trial, Wednesday overruled a motion that the indictment be dismissed because the stock certificates were not stolen while in interstate commerce. The court held it sufficient that the certificates were in interstate commerce after they were stolen.

Nuzzo, described by George W. Morrison, assistant U.S. attorney, as a former federal convict, is charged with having tried to sell 78 certificates of American Petrofina Class A common stock.

These certificates were part of $225,443 worth of that stock which Dr. Don M. Myers, 83, said three men stole from him at his home in Lancaster the night of May 17.

The doctor did not report the robbery to police, but it came to light when he issued a stop order on sale of the stolen shares.

Marvin Koblentz, a lawyer, said Nuzzo came to his office July 22, said he was from another city and wanted help on "a big real estate deal." Nuzzo then broached the subject of selling the stock, Koblentz testified.

The lawyer took him to a stock brokerage firm where a request was made that Nuzzo provide further identification.

Albert Fischer, an employe of the brokerage firm's sales department, testified Nuzzo came back the next day with 78 certificates and signed the name of Don M. Myers to all of them.

An attorney retained by Dr. Myers testified the 78 certificates were Myers' property.

"Irresponsible" - "In Bad Taste" - "With Hired Actors"

Not Fit for TV

We hope your favorite TV station is among those refusing to send the more obnoxious Ohioans for Right-to-Work "commercials" into your home. Many TV station managers have labelled these commercials as "inflammatory," "irresponsible" and "in bad taste." After viewing these commercials, a committee of Columbus ministers called upon the backers of Issue 2 to raise the level of their campaign.

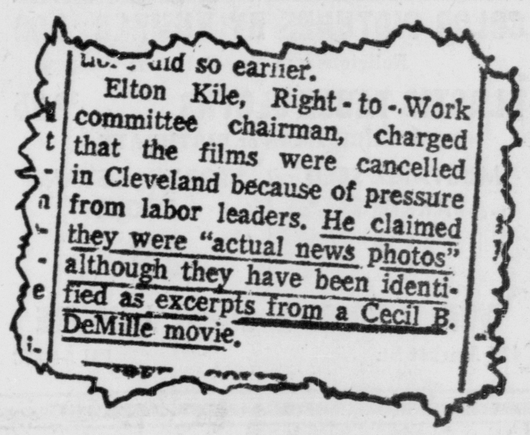

These spots are made with hired actors, but presented as though they are actual news shots. Things have come to a pretty pass when the sponsors of an amendment to Ohio's Constitution try to panic voters with such gutter tactics

The 'Big Lie' in Action?

Elton Kile, Right-to-Work committee chairman, charged that the films were cancelled in Cleveland because of pressure from labor leaders. He claimed they were "actual news photos" although they have been identified as excerpts from a Cecil B. DeMille movie.

Columbus Citizen, October 23, 1958

No Treats—Just Tricks

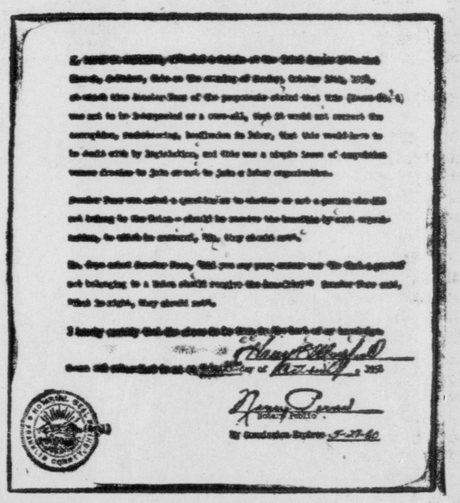

If you can't believe their TV commercials, can you believe anything they say?

In unguarded moments, even their own spokesmen admit their chief campaign claims are not true. Reproduced on this page are affidavits to prove it.

STATE SENATOR LOWELL FESS ADMITS

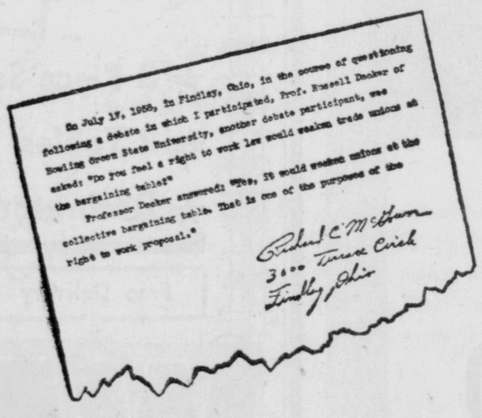

Issue 2 has nothing to do with corruption.

One of the chief spokesmen for Ohioans for Right to Work let the cat out of the bag in a talk at Columbus' Third Avenue Methodist Church on October 12, 1958. He admitted that Issue 2 would do nothing to correct the evils exposed by the McClellan Subcommittee. Obviously even he doesn't believe Ohioans for Right to Work TV commercials.

A BOWLING GREEN PROFESSOR CONFESSES

"It (Issue 2) would weaken unions at the collective bargaining table. That is one of the purposes of the right to work proposal."

On July 17, 1958, in Findlay, Ohio, in the course of questioning following a debate in which I participated, Prof. Russell Decker of Bowling Green State University, another debate participant, was asked: "Do you feel a right to work law would weaken trade unions at the bargaining table?"

Professor Decker answered: "Yes, it would weaken unions at the collective bargaining table. That is one of the purposes of the right to work proposal."

Richard C. McMahon
3400 Tiffin Circle
Findlay, Ohio

Speaking before a Findlay community audience, Russell Decker, assistant professor of Business Administration, Bowling Green State University, admitted the idea behind Issue 2 is to weaken unions at the bargaining table. This summer at least, he was on the payroll of Ohioans for Right to Work, so he is in a good position to know. Obviously he doesn't believe their TV claims that Issue 2 would strengthen unions and aid working people.

Issue 2 holds no treats for you. It can't help you. It can hurt you. The false claims made by its backers are designed to fool you. They are trying to trick you into voting for an amendment that would ultimately undermine Ohio's standard of living.

"Man in the Background"

CLERK of COURTS

"Jack" Peterson

He Deserves Your Vote . . . So Remember This Man When You Go To The Polls Next Tuesday!

The "Man in the Background" now steps to the front. A busy man for many years. A tireless worker. Always on the job. Very little glory for his efforts.

You, the public, you on a jury! Remember this man? He was the man in the background. Working away on a typewriter. Taking care of his job was he. So often was said, "See Jack". So many he assisted. Little praise was given at the time.

He has waited a long time for this. He never pushed. He respected others. He's earned his rightful place. He deserves your vote in the election Tuesday. Let him have the office for which he's worked so hard. In his hands this office has been entrusted for many years. May in his hands, it remain. Put "Jack" Peterson where he belongs—in the front as "Clerk of Courts".

Not Kremlin's Condemnation

3 Western Authors Cite Red 'Heat' On Pasternak

By The Associated Press

Three Western Nobel Prize-winning authors agreed today that Boris Pasternak turned down his 1958 award because of pressure from the Soviet government, not because he agreed with the Kremlin's condemnation of his work.

The 68-year-old Russian writer was awarded the $41,420 prize a week ago for his poetry and his novel, "Doctor Zhivago," which describes the loss of freedom in Soviet society. The novel is a best-seller in the West but has been suppressed in the Soviet Union.

Wednesday, after a government campaign of vilification in which the Nobel committee was accused of playing cold war politics, Pasternak cabled the Swedish Royal Academy of Letters that he was refusing the prize "because of the meaning attributed to this award in the society I live in."

"Do not take my voluntary refusal with any ill will," he added.

Previously he had messaged that he was "immensely thankful, touched, proud, astonished, abashed" by the honor.

France's Albert Camus, winner of the 1957 Nobel Prize for Literature, commented, "I don't believe Pasternak refused the Nobel Prize of his own free will. . . ."

Earl Bertrand Russell, 86-year-old British philosopher who won the 1950 prize, said he was "disgusted with the Russians' attitude to this from the start. Knowing the Russian way of life as we do, we may well think that Pasternak had no alternative but to reject this prize."

He joined another Nobel winner, poet T. S. Eliot, and several other leading British writers in a plea to the Soviet Writers Union not to victimize Pasternak. The union, a prime organ of government control of Soviet writers, already has expelled Pasternak from its ranks.

Pearl Buck, American author of "The Good Earth" and the 1938 winner, said she was "deeply saddened" that Pasternak was not permitted to accept the prize.

"The rejection, which no doubt was made under pressure, does not alter his world stature as a writer," she added. "It does reflect, most unfortunately, upon his government and his compatriots."

Dr. Anders Oesterling, secretary of the Swedish awarding committee, said Pasternak would still go down in history as the 1958 Nobel Prize winner whether the Russians like it or not.

"Our judgment cannot be changed by what is now happening," he said.

New 'Suicide Control' Plan Proposed By Health Expert

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A nationwide "suicide control" system was proposed today by a public health specialist.

Dr. Edward Press of New York, director of field services for the American Public Health Assn., suggested:

1. Establishment of a kind of "suicide control center" in every community of substantial size. The around-the-clock center would receive reports of all attempted suicides in the area. It would promptly initiate a system aimed at preventing a further attempt in a given case — a system involving various local government agencies.

2. Establishment of a nationwide network of state and local "societies for the prevention of suicides." These would operate something like present organizations aimed at the control and prevention of such conditions as cerebral palsy, deafness and blindness.

Dr. Press outlined his suggestion at the 86th annual meeting of the APHA.

Under his idea, any person attempting suicide would be transferred, after receiving physical treatment, to the psychiatric division of a hospital and kept under constant surveillance for at least 48 hours.

Once the patient was returned to his home, follow-up visits, aimed at rehabilitation would be the responsibility of the local health department.

Mueller was arrested Wednesday at his home on a warrant charging him with probation violation for armed robbery in Toledo.

The posts were painted green and had clothes hooks inserted in them, Mrs. Deyarmon said. They were stolen between 6 p. m. Tuesday and 4:30 p. m. yesterday, she added.

Man, 90, Loses Home, Buyer Says He Can Stay

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A 90-year-old man living alone on a meager pension lost his rural home at a sheriff's sale Wednesday. But the woman who bought it firmly told him he could live there until his death.

Miss Rose Farber was an unexpected bidder for the three-story stone house and 18 surrounding acres where Cadwallader Clegg has lived for 50 years.

Quietly announcing her bids, she finally got the home and land for $10,000. Clegg's creditor's bowed out at $9,700. Miss Farber said she represented a real estate investment company. She didn't say what the company plans to do with the rundown property.

But she told the men gathered at the county courthouse for the sale: "Mr. Clegg will be allowed to occupy the house as long as he lives."

It's not quite what Clegg wanted. He wanted to own the home in Lower Providence Township too. That was out of the question.

Thirteen years ago a car he was driving crashed into a motorcycle, injuring Robert H. Smith of Doylestown, Pa., and William Reiff of Kulpsville, Pa.

They brought suit in 1951. Smith won $18,000, Reiff $1,860. Interest now has increased the total to $28,360. Miss Farber's purchase is subject to this judgment and any other liens.

Clegg was unable to meet the claim, much less the mounting interest. The retired machinist, a widower, has only a $54-a month social security pension, barely enough to feed himself, his dog and his two cats.

Attorneys for the two men wanted him to sign over his property, assuring him he could go on living there.

Clegg refused. Stubbornly he held on to the title of his home—a home with neither running water nor electricity—and the acres he likes to roam with his beloved animals.

Last month Montgomery County Judge Harold G. Knight authorized the sheriff's sale—and Miss Farber showed up.

Biggest Shot Underground Fired By U.S.

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) —The biggest underground atomic explosion ever touched off by the United States blasted up through the top of a mesa today and shot a column of dirt more than 1,000 feet into the air.

The shot rocked the ground where newsmen were stationed 4½ miles away and shook large boulders off the edge of the mesa.

The completion of this test in a tunnel left just one more to go today before the test deadline set by President Eisenhower at midnight tonight.

Actually the deadline will be 4 p.m. here because that will be midnight, Greenwich time. How long the ban remains in effect depends on the outcome of talks between the United States, Britain, and the Soviet Union.

The underground explosion, Blanca, was touched off in a tunnel that had dug 2,600 feet into the side of a mound and under a mesa.

The great column of dirt that spewed up, probably 500 feet thick, began subsiding five minutes later and drifting away.

This explosion was rated as having the force of 20,000 tons of TNT, the same power as the atomic bombs dropped on Japan in World War II. This force is equal to that of a 40-car trainload of TNT.

Photographer Dies

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP) — Wesley Byron Howland, 51, White House photographer for the Washington Times and Herald for many years, died Tuesday of a coronary thrombosis. He also was a former news photographer for the Rochester, (N.Y.) Journal and the Harris and Ewing syndicate. He was born in Rochester.

Sought In Slaying

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police sought 32-year-old Eugene Pistner today for questioning the shotgun slaying of Joseph Cielinski. A murder warrant was issued against Pistner Thursday. He has not been seen since the 62-year-old widower's body was discovered last Monday in the house he owned in suburban Euclid. Pistner roomed in the house.

Gunmakers in Great Britain, once regarded as artists by grouse hunters and other sportsmen, almost disappeared after World War II. They found they could make larger salaries in precision industry.

Cardinals Pay Their Homage To New Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The College of Cardinals paid formal homage to Pope John XXIII today for the third successive day.

The new pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church was seated on his throne before the altar of the Sistine Chapel. One by one, the princes of the church who elected him two days ago approached, knelt and kissed his hand.

The cardinals made their first act of obeisance to the new Pope immediately after his election Tuesday. Their second homage was performed Wednesday just before Pope John made his first radio address to the world, an appeal for peace.

Officials of the Vatican, meanwhile, were busy with preparations for the coronation of Pope John next Tuesday, Nov. 4. The most colorful of all ceremonies of the Roman Catholic Church, it likely will be televised throughout Western Europe.

So far no coronation schedule has been announced.

The Interior Ministry published the figures to counter the publicity given the constant westward flow of East German refugees, which averages more than 4,000 weekly.

Red China's New War Policy Nothing To Battered Quemoy

QUEMOY (AP) — Red China's new every-other-day war policy doesn't mean a thing to the people of shell-scarred Quemoy.

Exemption of supply landing areas from attack on even-numbered days — such as today — is academic to them.

"What difference does it make?" asked a Quemoy City shopkeeper. "One day they shell the beaches. The next day they don't. But they still shoot at the rest of the island."

"Just another plot," said Col. Richard Kung, the city's supply director. "They are still shelling the people."

So far the Communists have lived up to their peculiar odd-even-day plan. No shells have hit the beaches or airstrips on even-numbered days.

Two planes from Taipei landed today without interference. Rough weather in Formosa Strait again barred sea supply convoys from testing the Communists' pledge.

The lightening of the daily bombardments in the past 10 days has generally relaxed tension on the island, however. Electricity has been restored. Shops stay open most of the day. Children play and soldiers and civilians stroll the streets of Quemoy City.

Nationalist defense headquarters in Taipei said the Reds lobbed only 164 rounds on the Quemoy islands during Wednesday night, and 221 in the 18 hours after 6 a.m. Thursday.

The United States further bolstered the Nationalists' armed forces. U.S. commanders turned over 46 fast M41 Walker Bulldog tanks, which the Nationalists may eventually send to the Quemoys as a precaution against invasion, and four amphibious barges with a capacity of 100 tons of cargo or 100 troops.

Waiver Step Told For VA Pensions

Veterans between 50 and 65, entitled to both VA service-connected compensation and non-service-connected pension, who waived pension and chose compensation in order to avoid deduction from their Social Security total disability payments, may now rescind that waiver, A. G. Billie, contact representative-in-charge of the Veterans Administration Office in Steubenville said today.

Billie pointed out that this would affect only those veterans who had actually waived their pensions to receive a larger payment from Social Security. A comparatively small number of veterans is included in this group.

Social Security payments are in no way affected by VA compensation payments. But under the old law, VA pension payments were subtracted from any monthly Social Security disability payment. Thus, a veteran entitled to either compensation or pension would waive his pension in order to collect full Social Security payments plus his compensation.

The new law allows the payment of both Social Security and VA pension. Thus, if pension payment exceeds compensation payment, the veteran must notify VA of his desire to rescind his waiver and collect the pension payments again.

Such payment cannot be retroactive and will be effective from the day VA receives notice to rescind the prior waiver.

Full information may be obtained at the Veterans Administration Office, 227 N. 5th St., Steubenville.

New Nickname Sought For Wells High School

The student body of Wells High School at Newell has launched a campaign to select an official nickname of the school to replace "Big Green" and "Warriors."

From a list of 14 choices presented to students Wednesday, four were chosen as possibilities, including "Hornets," "Vikings," "Mustangs" and "North Stars."

These four names will be submitted to Newell residents at an open house planned Nov. 7 at the high school. The list will be reduced to two and the student body will choose the final name.

The Student Council agreed that the school should have a more appropriate nickname instead of "Big Green" as Newell's athletes aren't as hefty as they used to be. Selection of a new name is also desired so that an emblem can be chosen.

Allen Richardson is editor of the staff preparing the annual, which will have pictures of school organizations and group pictures of Freshmen, Sophomore and Junior Classes, along with individual pictures of seniors.

Others on the staff are Larry Kessler and Richard Dunlap, sports editors; Barry Malone and Beverly Hayes, feature editors; Norma Baker, class editor; Larry Feth, junior high editor; Linda Knight, Violet Felton and Sharon Cole, typists.

Labor Unit Asks OK For Vote Challengers

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A labor group asked the election board Wednesday for permission to place challengers in each of Lucas County's precincts at next Tuesday's election.

The request was made by the Toledo Labor Conference on Legislative and Economic Problems, which opposes the proposal to regulate labor contracts.

Although a final decision has not been made, election board chairman John Kelly said he sees no reason to refuse the request. He said committees have been allowed challengers in voting places in other elections here.

John Wilhelm Heads Palestine Churchmen

EAST PALESTINE — John Wilhelm was elected president of the Methodist Men at a meeting Wednesday night at the church. He succeeds Robert Grimm.

Harold Schodde was named vice president and Robert Smith was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Fifty were present. This was the first meeting of the fall season.

The Rev. Jack Moody of Canfield was guest speaker.

Marine Corps Identifies Trio Linked To Slapping Recruits

LISBON — A formal investigation continued today by the Marine Corps on complaints by parents of six Lisbon recruits that they were "slapped and pushed around" while in training at Parris Island, S. C.

The instructors have been identified as S. Sgt. Ralph A. J. Grant of Racine, Wisc., Sgt. Ronald J. Heller of Milwaukee and Sgt. Willard Poss of Augusta, Ga.

The boys are Arthur Lynne Browne, Richard J. Koffel, John W. Coie, Robert L. Tafini, Roger A. McGaffick and John R. Hull.

The three sergeants, all drill instructors, have been restricted while the investigation is being held. Maj. Donald V. McCloskey, 1st Battalion training officer at Parris Island, met with the parents Tuesday at Lisbon.

Mrs. Paul Koffel, mother of one of the recruits, said in Lisbon that some of the parents learned of the incidents when they attended graduation exercises at the training base. She said she was there two days and saw her son for only 10 minutes during that time.

The three DI's also are accused of taking $690 from the 69 recruits who were members of the "Steel Valley Platoon."

The Marine Corps' training program at Parris Island has prompted a series of maltreatment investigations, which have resulted in several convictions. The center's most serious case involved S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon, a drill instructor who forced his platoon to march into a tidal stream at night. Six recruits drowned. McKeon was convicted by a general court-martial.

Coast Guard Auxiliary Plans Winter Training

Plans for winter training were outlined at a meeting of the Coast Guard auxiliary Wednesday night in the houseboat of the East Liverpool Yacht Club.

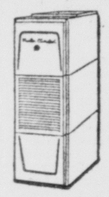

Clarence Crytzer, commander, said the training will include navigation, piloting, seamanship, knot tying and courtesy on the water.

A new type fire extinguisher using dry chemicals, which will be required by Dec. 1, was shown and a demonstration set for next spring.

Plans also were made for election of officers at the meeting Nov. 12. Capt. R. W. Parkins of McKeesport will install the new officers at a banquet later.

Miss Lupino Turns 'Saleswoman'

Buyers of television shows, mostly indecisive young men, have been accosted on a matter of TV business all week by a trim, shapely "Saleswoman" whose familiar attractiveness ought to go a long way toward influencing affirmative answers.

Marie Torre

How can a man say "no" to Ida Lupino! Forgetting she's an actress — and apparently she wants to forget it for good — Miss Lupino is in New York to find a buyer for a new television series ("The Green Peacock") which, if sold, will guarantee her existence as a director for at least a minimum of 26 weeks.

Miss Lupino, of course, hopes to function as a director for a lot longer than that. The blandishments of stardom never set her passions afire, and several months ago, when she and Howard Duff were notified about the termination of their "Mr. Adams and Eve" series, Miss Lupino wiped away the token tears and made a hasty retreat to the nearest director's chair.

AS SHE so vividly described her relief: "It meant no more false eyelashes at 6 o'clock in the morning."

Anyway, the nearest director's chair was located right in her own company, Bridget Productions, which produced the "Mr. Adams and Eve" series.

She and Duff put their heads together and came up with the pilot film of "The Green Peacock," an adventure yarn set against a Mexican background. Duff plays a private eye, with Hollywood veteran Ramon Novarro as a sidekick of sorts, and Miss Lupino is happy to stay out of the camera's way for a credit line, "Directed by Ida Lupino."

"If Howard had his way," said the refugee from the acting ranks, "he'd be out of the cast, too. The truth is, he favors producing. But somebody in the family has to act or we don't eat. Directing, you know, isn't terribly lucrative."

Lest people with short memories regard Miss Lupino as a fly-by-night in the directing field, it ought to be noted that she earned her letters by virtue of eight scripts she put on celluloid, some of them quite good, during the last 10 years.

-:-

IT IS THE INTENTION of the Duffs (who incidentally will collect nice residuals from the two-year run of "Mr. Adams and Eve")to build a small package producing company a la Desilu Productions.

They are ready to pounce on the project with several other properties that will be placed in production pending the sale of "The Green Peacock," which, according to Miss Lupino, "looks good for a January opening on one of the networks."

Until such time, Miss Lupino seeks to exhibit her directing skill on shows outside of the Duff domain and she tells us that offers are trickling in.

"I got the darnedest offer the other day," she said in tones of excitement. "I was asked to direct two episodes of a TV Western series. I've never directed a Western, but I'm intrigued, and of course I snapped up the offer."

The horse opera is "Have Gun, Will Travel," whose star is heman Richard Boone, and it's hoped that he doesn't lose face once the word gets out that he's taking orders from a woman.

-:-

FEUD CONCLUSIONS obviously will be drawn from the fact that Jaye P. Morgan instead of sidekick Buddy Hackett accompanied Jackie Gleason on television last Friday, but Gleason's associates assure us that it wasn't the original intention of the Gleason - Hackett association to play together every week. . . .

Ed Wynn will be 72 Nov. 9. . . .

Bing Crosby and Dean Martin, who entertained with honors on ABC Oct. 1, get together for another round of songs and patter on NBC Nov. 22. . . .

-:-

MEMBERS of the TV industry have an open invitation to confer with New York state Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz on the matter of unethical and illegal practices in the TV supply and repair business.

Announced Attorney General Lefkowitz:

"Investigations with reference to complains, conducted by the Division of Consumer Frauds and Protection of my office, have disclosed that the complaints have a substantial basis.

"It has been the practice of some persons to engage in the business of selling mislabeled and improper television tubes and parts, and of others, to exact unusually high payments for repairs and to fail to adhere to agreements made with customers."

110 Attend Workshop For School Bus Staffs

LISBON — Approximately 110 county, city and exempted village school bus drivers and mechanics attended a workshop at Fairfield High School Tuesday night, according to Supt. James L. McBride.

C. A. Baughman of Youngstown, past president of the Youngstown Area National Safety Council, advised the drivers to always feel that the other driver will violate the safety rules."

The State Highway Patrol showed a film, "Highway of Agony," and also reported on the county bus inspections.

Third grade students presented a school bus safety project and refreshments were served by the County Board of Education.

DiSalle Raps O'Neill's Bid On 2 Points

Says His Campaign Costing Too Much His Claims Not True

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle, Democratic candidate for governor, assailed Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill's campaign on two points Thursday night.

DiSalle asserted that (1) O'Neill's campaign is costing too much and (2) his claims are not true.

DiSalle, in a major address here, said federal government reports issued within the last month refute O'Neill's claim that Ohio is first in the nation in road building and its mental health program.

DiSalle said a report by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads places Ohio seventh in the interstate highway program in miles under construction and 17th in miles completed.

O'Neill's mental health program was planned and the funds provided by previous administrations, DiSalle said. He added that his personal investigations "have shown blatent cases of inhumane care in our mental program. . . ."

In a press conference at Port Columbus Airport in Columbus en route to Dayton DiSalle told reporters that O'Neill's campaign was "the most expensive and extravagant in Ohio's history."

DiSalle challenged O'Neill to join him in making their campaign contributions public before next Tuesday's election.

The Democratic candidate claimed that O'Neill has spent at least $430,000 on picnics, billboards, television time and mailing campaigns in his bid for re-election.

In his address DiSalle also criticized O'Neill for not extending jobless benefits until mid-September, and for holding up payment of supplemental unemployment benefits.

DiSalle also reiterated his charge that O'Neill's administration has been operating in the red.

"Surpluses accumulated in Gov. Lausche's administration have been diminished and artificial surpluses have been achieved through changes in bookkeeping procedures and administrative changes in collection of certain taxes," DiSalle asserted. "If these conditions were presented as truth, instead of in a manner calculated to deceive the people of Ohio, then the record is one the governor should run from—not on."

Coal Mine Explosions Occur More Often Oct.1-March 31

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coal mine explosions such as the two which killed 35 miners this week are more frequent during the period from Oct. 1 through March 31, the Bureau of Mines said today.

The week's explosions in mines near Bishop, Va., and Summersville, W. Va., were the first major explosion disasters listed by the bureau in U. S. coal mines this year. The bureau rates as a major disaster a single accident causing five or more deaths.

There have been 17 major explosion disasters in U. S. coal mines since Jan. 1, 1948, with 14 of these occurring during the October-March span.

"We know the most dangerous time for explosions is when the mines are drying out, the long period from October through March," said Harry F. Weaver, chief of the Division of Coal Mine Inspection.

However, Weaver and other bureau officials said there has been no conclusive determination that weather changes make mine explosions more likely.

They did point out that a 1954 study at the Orient No. 2 mine at West Frankfort, Ill., resulted in a bureau warning that additional precautions should be taken against explosive methane gas when the barometer is falling. On Dec. 21, 1951 in the Orient No. 2 mine 119 miners were killed in an explosion.

CAB To Review Certificates Of Service Airlines

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board plans an immediate review of temporary operating certificates issued three years ago to 14 local service airlines serving 95 communities.

The affected cities in Ohio include, Dover, New Philadelphia, Marion, Springfield and Zanesville.

The certificates are scheduled to expire between Dec. 6 and Feb. 10. At the time they were issued the CAB noted temporary operating authority was granted to cities expected to produce at least five passengers a day after a reasonable period of time.

In considering a renewal of the permits the CAB said it will consider all factors of public necessity but warned that cities which have produced fewer than the five-a-day minimum during the past year may not warrant further certification.

Because it is unlikely the board can complete the hearings before the certificates expire, it will authorize service to continue until a final disposition of the cases is made.

In 1891, more than two - thirds of the population in Canada lived in rural areas; today two - thirds live in the urban areas.

Potters Face Highly-Rated Quakers At Salem On Friday

Foe's Record Of 5-2 Earns 14th Ranking

With a rumbling 200-pound fullback as an inside threat and a clever halfback adept at sweeping the ends, East Liverpool's opponent this week — Salem High — has risen to 14th ranking in Ohio and poses a real tough team for Coach Lou Venditti's Potter charges to contain.

Salem began paying account on some old debts last year, bouncing the Potters, 28-7, and are the odds-on favorite to pull the trick again this season. The Quakers are 5-2 for the season and pulled one of the state's major upsets last week in edging seventh-ranked Youngstown East, 19-18, with a second-half rally.

However, the late uprising which carried them to a victory over East wasn't just a fluke. In an earlier game against Canton Timken, the Quakers had fought to a scoreless tie at halftime, but eased out to a 21-0 victory in the second half.

The Potters have met the Salem club almost every year since 1911 and have an edge in the victory column, 23-16, with three games ending in ties.

Paving the way to another good season for Coach Earl Bruce are giant fullback Lou Slaby, who scales at least 200, and flashy halfback Ralph Ehrhart, the team's leading scorer.

The pair gives the Quakers a potent offensive punch, with Ehrhart averaging 8.2 yards per carry and Slaby close behind with a 6.1 average. Ehrhart leads in touchdown production with eight and three conversions for 54 points this season, while his running mate has accounted for 38 points.

With a hefty line providing plenty of interference, Salem's backs and ends have rolled up a total of 185 points this season — highest in Columbiana County — while holding opponents to an average of only eight points per game.

The Quakers will have a tremendous weight advantage over the Potters on the line, with right guard Buddy Rottenborn hitting well above the 200-pound mark, right tackle George Daily scaling 200-plus, and center Clyde Marks going at 181 pounds.

Although basically a running team with Slaby and Ehrhart doing most of the ball toting, quarterback Kent Malloy, a 145-pounder, is capable of pulling some surprises and has completed 18 of 41 tosses this year for 326 yards. One of the heaves was good for a touchdown and three were intercepted.

East Liverpool will meet the Quakers Friday night at Reilly Stadium in Salem, and will catch the neighbors with a three-game victory streak.

Salem lost its first game of the year, 19-12 to Cleveland John Marshall, but then drubbed Ravenna, 34-0, Canton Timken, 21-0, and its second defeat was to powerful Brookfield, 26-16.

The win streak started again as the Quakers turned back Wooster, 33-0, smothered Wellsville, 48-8, and last week upset Youngstown East, 19-18. No opponent has limited the Quakers to less than two touchdowns.

The left side of Salem's line won't have an outstanding weight advantage over the Potter gridders, but has more experience. Dave Metcalf, left end, scales 170, Ned Chappel, left tackle, is 182 and Ken Garlock, left guard, weighs 170. Teaming with Rottenborn and Daily on the right side is end Tony Petrucci, 160.

Rounding out the backfield is Fred Phillis at the right halfback spot. Phillis weighs 156 and is shifty and elusive.

Meanwhile, it appears the Potters have lost the services of fullback Bill O'Neil for the remainder of the year.

He is suffering from a shoulder injury.

O'Neil will definitely miss Friday night's game and the fullback chores will fall on Henry Roach, 145-pound junior. Roach has performed steadily in his few cracks at the spot and should gain some valuable experience with O'Neil gone from the lineup.

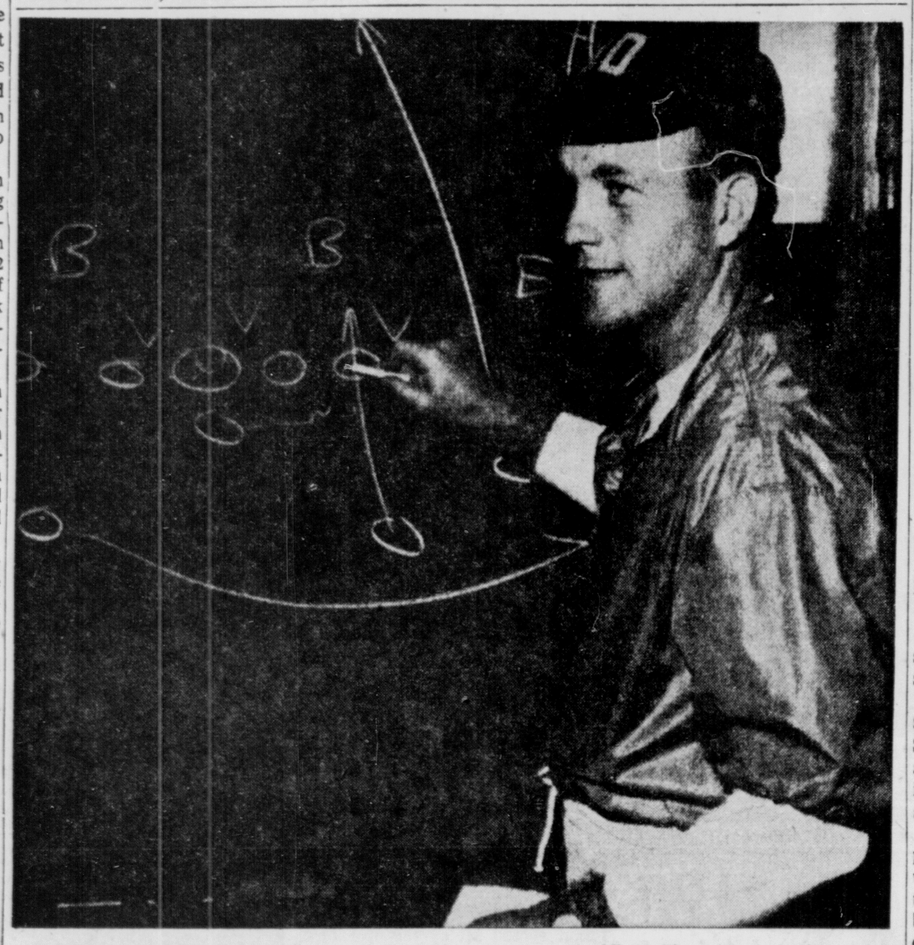

Ends Pat Cooper and Ron Prince were still limping in Wednesday's practice with ankle sprains, but both should be ready to go against Salem. Also on the injured list are guard Charlie Davidson and tackle Craig Burbick.

Friday's game will be the first of two away in a row for the Potters who travel to Toronto Nov. 7. First-ranked Alliance visits Patterson Field Nov. 14.

Skins' Watson To Face Old Mates, Steelers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sid Watson evidently has won the starting left halfback job for the Washington Redskins just in time to face his old teammates, the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Watson played three years for the Steelers before he was dropped last summer and snatched up quickly by the Redskins. The former Northeastern University back sat out some early season games because of broken ribs. But he returned to work last week and seems to have edged Ed Sutton for the starting assignment.

Calhoun Insists He Wasn't Sharp In Ring Victory

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — "This guy is shorter than most. He made it tough for me."

Thus did Rory Calhoun, high ranking middleweight, concede he hadn't looked as sharp as he might Wednesday night in winning a unanimous 10-round decision over Germany's Franz Szuzina in their televised fight.

All three officials made the 24-year old minister's son from White Plains, N.Y., the winner by a wide margin but Calhoun wasn't satisfied with his performance.

Referee Joe Palmer, who took the seventh round from Rory because of low blows, scored it 7-2-1. Judge Harold McGrath had Calhoun winning 9-1 and Judge Charles di Salva 8-2. The Associated Press card was 7-3 for Calhoun.

Calhoun spent most of the evening slamming away at long range, but he also was able to contain Szuzina's usually strong body attack in the clinches. There were no knockdowns, but Rory slipped to the canvas four times. He said he fell over his own or Szuzina's feet trying to set up Franz.

Battered Irish To Take 3-2 Mark Against Navy

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Maybe coach Terry Brennan of Notre Dame's football team should have been taken at his word when he said before the season "we're not as good as everybody thinks we are."

The battered Irish go against Navy at Baltimore Saturday with a 3-2 record. Pegged by many in preseason reckonings as the team to beat, the Irish now are not even among the top 20 in the AP weekly poll.

Even in victory, Notre Dame has had to fuss furiously. It opened with an 18-0 verdict over weak Indiana, but led only 6-0 until the final 7 minutes. They had a close call over Southern Methodist, 14-6, and came from behind to vanquish Duke 9-7.

Army defeated Notre Dame 14-2, but the Irish were mauled by Pistol Pete Dawkins and Bob Anderson more than the score indicated. Last Saturday the Irish finished courageously, but still lost to Purdue 29-22.

Before the season opened, Brennan observed: "We are slow up front. Our depth is not a solid two-deep. And, finally, we have to have a lot of breaks, escaping injury and getting the right bounce of the ball."

Certainly they have not escaped injury. Fullback Nick Pietrosante, guard Al Ecuyer, center Bob Scholtz, halfback Jim Crotty, quarterback Bob Williams and guard Jim Schaaf have spent costly time on the bench due to ailments.

As for the right bounce of the ball, Notre Dame has fumbled 23 times and lost the ball 13 times in 5 games. For all of last season they had only 28 fumbles and lost the ball 14 times.

Pirates' Manager Figured In Oddities In '58 Season

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — When can a batter hit a pop fly into his own glove for an out?

The answer: When he lends his glove to a fielder on the opposing team. It happened last May 30 when Gil Hodges of Los Angeles loaned his glove to rival first baseman Bobby Adams of Chicago.

Adams never had played the position before and since both Cub first basemen, Dale Long and Paul Smith, were left-handed, Bobby had to borrow Hodges' mitt. In the fourth inning, Adams used Hodges' glove to catch Gil's infield fly.

There were many other odd happenings in organized baseball during the 1958 season.

Danny Murtaugh, Pittsburgh manager, rushed onto the field toward Umpire Jocko Conlan. Many fans wondered about the sudden action because the Pirates were leading 14-4 in the seventh inning.

Murtaugh had a ready answer. "I really didn't have anything to protest about. Jocko wanted to know what was wrong. Nothing, I told him. This game is being televised back to Chester (Pa.) and I wanted my wife and kids to get a look at me." Danny lives in Chester.

There's the one about the delay in a Pioneer League game at Missoula, Mont.

Fans began to get fidgety when game time passed without an appearance by the umpires. A quick investigation showed that the three umpires were in their dressing room. The only trouble was that a prankster had locked the door from the outside, with the Umps on the inside.

Roy Hawes of St. Paul used his head in a game against Indianapolis. A vicious line drive caromed off Hawes' glove and struck him on the head, caromed into the air and was caught by the second baseman. Hawes was stunned but walked from the field.

Catcher Dick Kinaman of the Salinas, Calif., team wore his full catching equipment when he came to bat in the game of May 3. Although the umpires made him shed the equipment, Kinaman had good reason for the protection. He had been hit by pitched balls seven times in four previous games.

Toronto Brothers Will Oppose Each Other On Friday

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Deiderich brothers of Toronto, Ohio, will be on the warpath against each other Friday in the football game between the University of Miami and Vanderbilt.

Harry Deiderich, a Miami junior, is newly promoted to starting fullback on the Hurricanes squad. George Deiderich, Vanderbilt senior plays guard.

The brothers Deiderich both played on the Toronto High School eleven.

Harry said he came to Miami U. because "I got tired of following in my brother's footsteps and I wanted to get where people wouldn't be saying that I was George's little brother."

Wise Quits Phils Post; Meister New Secretary

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies announced today that John Wise, traveling secretary since 1952, has resigned. He will be succeeded by Charles Meister.

Wise, 37, is associated with Cincinnati Redlegs' outfielder Del Ennis in the operation of a bowling alley. He joined the phillies organization 13 years ago.

Meister, 51, formerly was a passenger agent with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

3 New Individual Offense Pacers Cited In Football

By The Associated Press

Three new individual offense leaders bobbed up in major college football this week, all taking over with spectacular performances.

Sonny Randle of Virginia nabbed nine tosses last week and raised his season total to 32, the most any player has made in six games since 1952. This despite the fact Virginia's ace passer, Reece Whitley, has been sidelined with injuries the past two weeks.

Bill Austin, Rutgers' man of all work, scored three times against Lehigh last Saturday, bringing his total to 66 points. He now has scored more touchdowns in five games than any major college player in recorded history — 10. Howard Cook of Colorado is in second place with 53 points, including eight touchdowns.

Dale Hackett of Wisconsin took over the punt-return lead with a 64-yard touchdown gallop which blotted Ohio State's perfect record with a tie.

Only Georgia's Bob Walden, with a 47.4-yard punting average; Drake's Tom Newell, with 278 yards on kickoff returns, and Don Black, New Mexico's spectacular pass catcher who has averaged four points for every catch, retained their leads in their respective departments last week.

Bill Kreitling of Illinois, who has covered 426 yards on only 13 pass receptions for a 32.8-yard average, is in a class by himself in that department.

Black caught three passes against Wyoming Saturday. Two of them were for touchdowns, bringing his six-game record to seven touchdowns in 10 receptions.

By throwing for two touchdowns, in addition to scoring three himself, Austin brought his touchdown-responsibility total to 17 in five games.

Only two others this season have contributed even half as many points as Austin in the touchdown-responsibility department. Cook has been responsible for 71 points, and Bill Holsclaw of Virginia Tech for 58. Austin's total is 114, including six extra points.

Pettit Meshes 37 Points, Hawks Defeat Lakers

By The Associated Press

Bob Pettit still is the same Bob Pettit of last season. For the St. Louis Hawks that is good news. For their rivals in the National Basketball Assn. it is bad.

Pettit tallied 37 points Wednesday night to run his total for three games to 91 as the Hawks defeated the Minneapolis Lakers 112-100 and took over first place in the Western Division. Last season Pettit was the league's third ranking scorer with a game average of 24.8 points.

The former Louisiana State All-America hit on 15 of his 23 field goals attempts and paced the Hawks' fourth-period attack as they turned the game into a rout. The score was all-square at 78 going into the final quarter. Then Pettit made 10 of his 37 points to put the game out of reach of the Lakers.

Richardson is seeded No. 1 and Olmedo No. 2. Experts predict they will finish in that order.

Big Games On Saturday Could Turn Into 'Battle Of Stars'

Top-Flight Performers Slated To 'Square Off'

By The Associated Press

Some of Saturday's more important football games could turn into a battle of "stars", answering the inevitable "who is best?" question.

Innocently, the schedule-makers have brought together many of the top-flight college performers this weekend.

College of the Pacific makes its second trip over the Rockies in two weeks, meeting Boston College in Boston. It is also bringing Dick Bass, the nation's No. 1 rusher with 647 yards on 79 rushes in five games.

The Eagles have their ace quarterback and passer Don Allard returning for the first time since he was injured in the Syracuse game, a month ago. He was BC's big offensive gun last year.

Two quarterbacks promise plenty of fireworks when Wake Forest moves to Clemson for their Atlantic Coast Conference battle. Wake Forest is counting on Norm Snead, 14th in the country in total offense with 596 yards in six games.

Clemson has Harvey White back in harness after being injured in the loss to South Carolina a week ago. White has been among the top five ACC offense leaders all year.

Also in the ACC, Alex Hawkins, South Carolina's rumbling halfback, pits his prowess against Maryland's quarterback Bob Rusevlyan, the nation's 14th ranked passer.

Hawkins led the Gamecocks to their 26-6 upset of Clemson a week ago with 57 yards in 12 carries and one touchdown. Rusevlyan has racked up 387 yards with 41 completions and two touchdowns for the Terps.

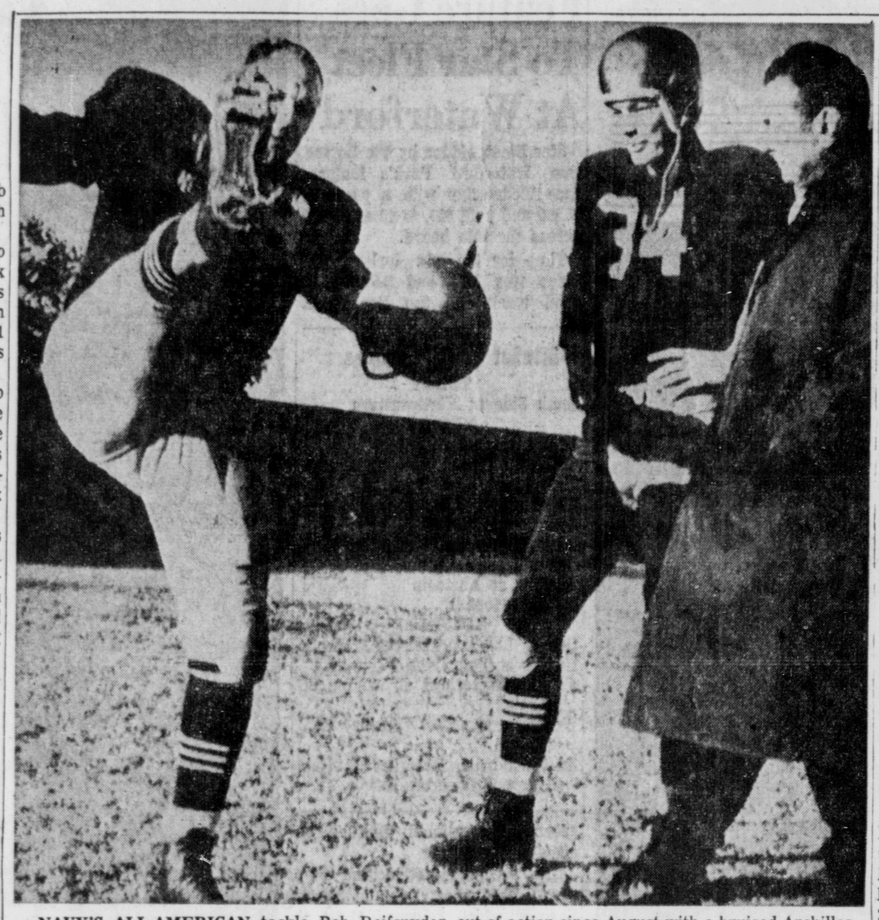

The big game in the Big 10 also could turn into a great offensive duel with Ohio State's Bob White and quarterback Frank Kremblas facing Northwestern's signal caller Dick Thornton and halfback Ron Burton.

White, the OSU fullback, leads the Big 10 in rushing with 151 yards in 46 carries for a 3.3 average. Nationally, he ranks sixth with 450 yards in 122 carries, and is among the leaders in scoring with 48 points on eight TDs.

Kremblas is fifth in the conference's passing list, fourth in total offense and fourth in punting.

Thorton is third in passing and fifth in punting in the conference, while Burton ranks 14th nationally in rushing offense with 396 yards and has scored 50 points on eight touchdowns and two extra points.

Pitt's Ivan Toncic and Bill Kaliden will match their passing with Syracuse's Chuck Zimmerman in a top Eastern battle. Navy's Joe Tranchini will pit his aerial game against Nick Pietrosante's running attack for Notre Dame.

NAVY'S ALL-AMERICAN tackle Bob Reifsnyder, out of action since August with a bruised Archilles tendon, kicks high to show Navy coach Eddie Erdelatz the condition of his leg at the Academy. With them is end John Kanuch, who last week was declared out for the season after suffering a brain concussion in the Navy-Tulane game. Kanuch is able to rejoin the team, while Reifsnyder must prove during workouts that he is ready. They are shown before a practice session. (UPI Telephoto)

Two Athletes To Get Trials On Gambling

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) —Two star athletes of the University of Michigan and five other students will get jury trials next month on charges growing out of an investigation of campus football gambling.

The seven students stood mute Wednesday at their arraignment on charges of engaging in an illegal occupation. They demanded jury trials.

Under Michigan law the court automatically enters a plea of innocent for persons who stand mute.

The charges against the students carry a maximum sentence of 90 days in jail and $100 fine on conviction.

The athletes were Tony Rio, Michigan's first - string fullback since a knee injury sidelined John Herrnstein several weeks ago, and Jack Lewis, captain of the Wolverines' basketball squad. Both are 21 and from Chicago.

They were dropped from their athletic squads by order of Athletic Director Fritz Crisler.

The other students were Nick Mitea, 21, of Ecorse, Mich., Durwood Collins, 22, of Houston, Tex., Michael G. Dodgson, 21, of Grand Rapids, Mich., Carl M. Riseman, 21, of Detroit, and John A. Miller, 19, of Utica, Mich.

Detective Lt. George Stauch said they were accused of distributing football spot cards.

The cards list up to 40 games. Purchasers pick the teams they believe will win — either giving or taking points, according to a point spread set by the operators of the cards — and may collect on odds up to 500-1, depending on how many games are bet.

Brown's Chief Satisfaction Is 'Knowing I Played Good'

CLEVELAND (AP)—"That was Jim Brown!"

The announcer's voice boomed over the public address system, but most of the people in the vast stadium knew without being told. They had watched the opposing team in a huddle moving down the field—the wrong way—and at the center of the huddle was Cleveland's fullback Jim Brown.

But there is more than bulldozing behind Brown's wholesale attack on National Football League statistical records.

He is fast, one of the best sprinters on the squad. Give him a little space and he's off.

What makes Jim Brown go?

The 6-foot-2 former Syracuse star scorns statistics which many cite when they predict he will become one of the greatest stars of professional football. What gives him the greatest satisfaction is not the long touchdown run but "knowing that I played a good game."

Brown in five games has averaged 163 yards per game—more than twice his average last year as a freshman when he led the league in total yards gained rushing. With seven more games to go, he seems to be a cinch—barring injury—to better the record of 1,146 yards Steven Van Buren of Philadelphia set in 1949.

Coach Paul Brown calls Jim the "best draft choice we ever made." Brown points to Jim's muscular physique as part of the answer to the mystery of the fullback's spectacular success.

Jim has "such a terrific thigh structure that he hurts tacklers," Brown told one sports writer.

STRIKES, SPARES

By ROB NIBLOCK

Tight races to the wire featured several of the leagues which completed first-round play at the Don-Bus Alleys during the last week.

Probably one of the most exciting finishes was in the Big Eight League, which was won by West Virginia. Leading by two points going into the final night, West Virginia had to stave off a rally by second-place Purdue Monday night to clinch the title.

Purdue grabbed the first two games from West Virginia, deadlocking the two teams for first place at 14 points each. But in the deciding third game, West Virginia won by a lopsided 76-pin advantage.

—:—

MILLIRONS clinched the Federal League first round title Tuesday night by grabbing five points in a match with Rearks.

For the second consecutive week, Millirons, last year's Federal League champion, rolled better than 3,000, having a 3,035 team total this week. In addition, it has picked up better than 1,000 pins in five of its last six games.

Rearks, which led Millirons by one-half point going into the match, rolled 2,779. Finishing third was Wilson's Market.

Dave McFaul, a high school boy who bowls in the City Ten Pin League, had the high individual series for the league Tuesday night. He rolled 618 for the three games and had the third high single game score with 234.

Irwins Drugs lead Globe Brick and Gerace Grocers, which are tied for second, by 2½ points in the league. The first-round champion will be decided in next week's action.

—:—

KROSNEY Jewelers of the Sunday night Cat 'N Dogs League won the first round championship and took new high team honors for the season in the process by rolling a 796 game and a 2,243 series. Second-place Allens Shoes finished with 25 points, three less than the winner.

Perenially powerful Gengarella Brothers won the American League first-round title after leading the circuit through the entire nine weeks of play. Osborn Barbers finished a close second, trailing the winner by only two points.

Wellsville S.O.I shot a new high single game in the National League Monday night, besting a 1,079 game of City Bar thrown earlier in the season.

The first-round champion of the National League will be decided next week. Gengarellas with 27 points is now in first place, leading second-place Osborns by one-half point.

Only one local bowler—a woman—was able to win a game from the Stroh's contingent Saturday. Ann "Trigger" Creaturo threw a 176, which was four pins better than her opponent Fred Ricilli. Dale Rudibaugh rolled a 200 game for the high posted by the local opposition.

ROSS WILLIAMSON and Jim Wilson threw the first 200 games of the Review League. Williamson had 207 and Wilson 205.

With the Head Pin Alley remodeling nearing completion, eight teams to compete in the Little League have been announced. They include the Elks, Vi Jons, Blue Star Chips, Chamberlain Heating, Gene's Bar, American Vitrified, Koerber Bros. and the Head Pin.

Splits-to-spares conversions occurred less frequently last week, but T.S. & T. bowlers continued to show proficiency in that department.

TEN SPLITS were converted in the Big Eight League, seven of them 3-10's. Jay Wilson picked up the 4-7-10, Tuck Miller, 5-6, and Moe Creaturo 5-10 and 3-10. Others getting the 3-10 were Rose Comparetta, Ann Creaturo, Wilma Zoellers, Leonard Bryan, Chuck Sprouse, and Mary Lou Springer.

Converting most frequently on splits were Federal League bowlers, who got 17. Bob Welch picked up the 5-6-10 and 3-10, Gene Renkauf, 4-5-7, John Higgins, 5-6, Harry Early, 2-7, Ralph Carpenter, 5-7, John Canne, 9-10 and the 5-8-10 being picked up by Buck Wilson and George Simballa.

Two 3-10 conversions were made by Dick Springer. Getting that split a single time were Bill Scaelski, Bob Clapsaddle, Art Haney, Chuck Stewart and Harry Snyder.

In the City Ten Pin League, Ed Burns converted the 5-7 and 3-10, Ernie Kollmayer, 5-6-10, and collecting the 5-7 were Vic Ferello, John Jack and Harry Cain. Ed Shingler, Tony Scafide, Doc Delong and Ed Burns all got the 3-10.

Chic Camparetta picked up the 5-7 in National League play, with Tracy Hancock, Dale Wellington and Chic Golden all bringing in the 3-10.

Dick Shulsen, Notre Dame senior guard, won the university heavy - weight boxing title last spring.

Montreal Off To Fast Start In NHL Race

By The Associated Press

The Montreal Canadiens rapidly are making shambles of the National Hockey League pennant race.

Unlike a year ago when the Canadiens got off to a slow start, the league and Stanley Cup champions have chalked up seven victories and two ties in 11 games this season. They hold a seven-point margin over the Boston Bruins and New York Rangers, deadlocked for second place.

The Canadiens picked up two points Wednesday night by shutting out the Toronto Maple Leafs 5-0 while the Bruins and Rangers played to a 2-2 standoff for their third tie.

Playing their fourth game in five nights, the Canadiens rolled up one of their easiest victories as goalie Jacques Plante posted his second shutout of the campaign. Dickie Moore, Bernie Geoffrion, Jean Beliveau and rookie Ab McDonald took care of the Montreal scoring.

The Rangers apparently had their game with the Bruins won when the clock showed only nine seconds remaining. But Fleming Mackell took three swipes at the puck and with the last one sent the disc bounding past Gump Worsley for a tie.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Bob Robertson, 30, a 6-foot-2, 176-pound defenseman, has been acquired by the Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League from the Providence Reds. The player traded to the Reds for Robertson will be announced later.

Robin Roberts Wins NL Comeback Of Year Title

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—"I felt better and was throwing better."

That's how Robin Roberts summarized his 1958 pitching record of 17 victories and 14 losses that won him the Comeback Player of the Year title in the National League.

Roberts got 59 of the 98 votes by members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America in the annual Associated Press poll. Bob Friend of Pittsburgh got 21 votes and Bobby Thomson of Chicago 13.

The 32-year-old Philadelphia hurler referred to his dismal 10-22 record for 1957 and said it "definitely made me a candidate for the (comeback) honor, didn't it?"

The strapping right-hander did not make any excuses after that fiasco. "I just got clobbered. That is all," he said.

But Roberts, in Savannah to look after his seafood packing and restaurant business, had a ready reason for his improvement.

"I suppose I made a comeback this year because I felt better and was throwing better," he commented. "I wasn't throwing any different stuff — not too much anyhow — but I was throwing better.

"I can tell you one thing. I'm looking forward to next season and I personally hope to do better. I feel fine and I suppose this feeling comes from winning. It makes a lot of difference the way you feel when you're out there winning."

Roberts' 1957 mark was the worst in his major league career. He won 20 or more games for six straight years, 1948-55, before dropping to a 19-18 mark in 1956. Then in 1957 his earned run average soared to 4.07. But his 1958 performance trimmed this to 3.27.

Mothers of the Midland midget champs presented their boys with special trophies.

The dinner was prepared and served by the mothers of the boys.

Pitt's Guzik Credits Team And Coaches

By GEORGE ESPER

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pitt's John Guzik, Associated Press Lineman of the Week, is a modest, affable football giant who calls himself lucky and passes his laurels to coaches and teammates.

Pitt Coach Johnny Michelosen describes him as "a high class kid" both on and off the field.

"He's played real good football," Michelosen adds. "I hope he continues to do so. He's very proficient at diagnosing plays."

Asked how he felt when learning of his selection by The Associated Press, Guzik said:

"Well, sir, I was kind of surprised. I didn't expect it. I played against a real good guard in the Army game, Bob Novogratz."

Guzik, 230-pound senior guard and linebacker, doesn't carry a rabbit's foot around with him, but he insists he's been lucky.

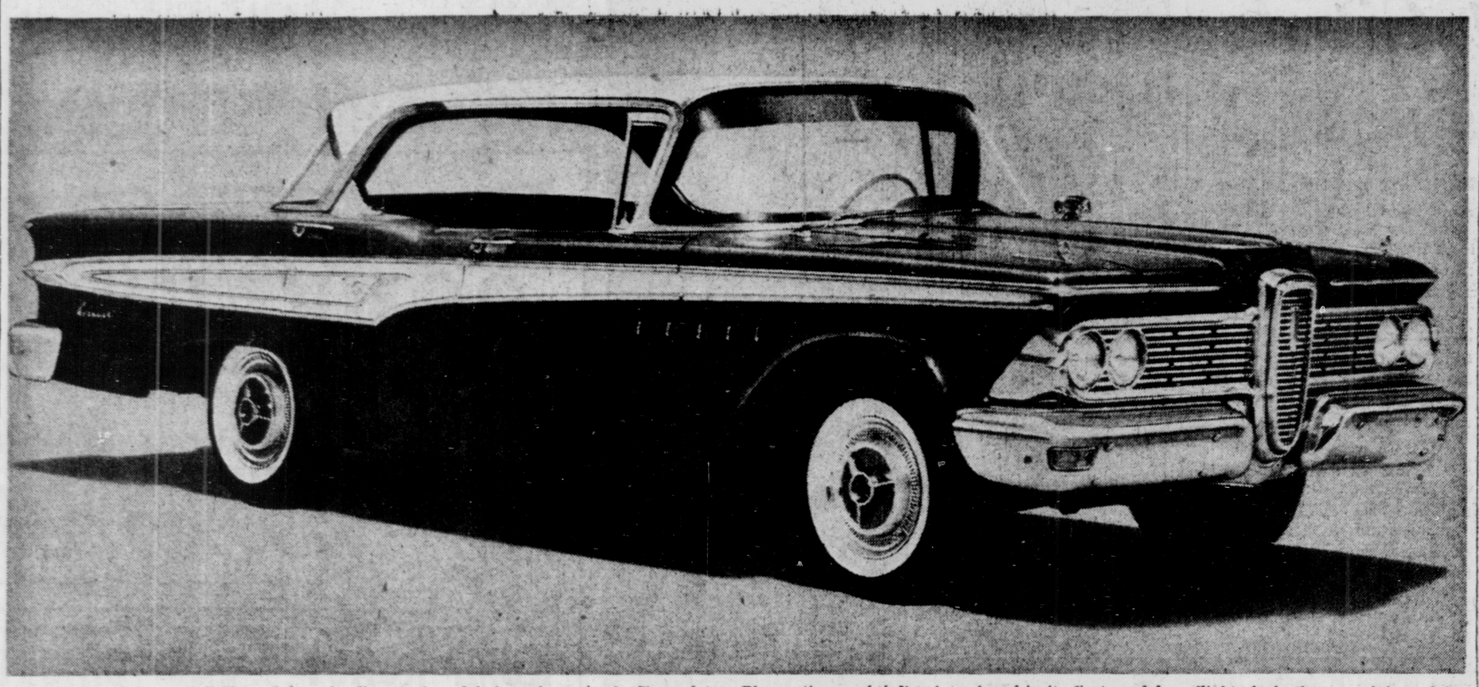

"I've been able to make more tackles," he explains, "thanks to my teammates. The fellows in front of me are doing such a good job preventing opposing linemen from blocking me that I'm able to move freely and get in there and make the tackles."

Guzik attributes a great deal of his success to being able to diagnose plays and credits Michelosen with helping him become an expert at the trick.

Just like any other grade school kid, Guzik, who lives in nearby Cecil Twp., dreamed of becoming an All-America football player someday.

Guzik, who will graduate from the school of business administration in February, hopes to make the grade in professional football. He was the fourth draft pick of the Los Angeles Rams last year.

New Edsel Cars Will Be Placed On Display Here Friday

Edsel introduces a full line of distinctively - styled cars in the models which will go on display locally Friday at Arb Motor Sales, 1340 Pennsylvania Ave.

In answer to public demands for a car that makes more sense, the Corsair series has been trimmed five inches in length, excess weight has been cut an average of 150 pounds per car and all Edsels have been repositioned in the market.

Interior dimensions, wheelbase, all stamped body parts and the entire lineup of models have been changed. For 1959, Edsel has a complete line of cars in three series: Ranger, Corsair and Villager station wagons.

"The Edsel will be directly competitive with the top series of the largest-selling three," Ben D. Mills, Ford Motor Co. vice president and general manager of Mercury, Edsel and Lincoln, said.

"An Edsel, comparably equipped item for item, will sell within $50 or less of the top series of Chevrolets, Plymouths and Fords," he added.

All but one of Edsel's four engines for 1959 operate on lower-priced standard gasoline. The Edsel lineup also includes for the first time an Economy Six for those who want the maximum in gas saving.

Edsel transmissions include the new, 50-pound-lighter low -cost two-speed Mile-O-Matic.

All car bodies are completely new in design, but they retain the "Edsel look," which the new line introduced in its first models last year.

The Edsel grille is instantly recognizable, but has been adapted to the compact styling theme of the car. Dual headlights have been lowered and are an integral part of the grille. The vertical airscoop retains its outline but has been restyled by liberal use of bright metal to harmonize with the horizontal sweep of the car.

Distinctive side treatments identify each series. The rear flight deck theme originated by Edsel last year is enhanced by lowering the taillights to give the car a ground-hugging appearance.

Edsel's Ranger series includes a two-door and a four-door sedan and a two-door and a four-door hardtop. Corsairs will be available in four-door sedans, two-door and four-door hardtops and convertibles. In addition, there are two Villagers station wagons — six passenger and nine passenger four-door models.

Levy Need Cited In Talk To PTA

Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, addressed the Beaver Local Parent - Teacher Association Monday evening on the program and needs of the County Health Department.

Dr. Palmer said that statistics show hundreds of residents in Columbiana County have escaped serious illness because of the protection received from public health programs.

"These people are naturally not aware of this protection, which accounts for the fact that many do not support the department," he said. He discussed over 25 services provided by the department, all of which are planned to prevent disease. The cost of this protection is less than one cent a week per capita, he said.

Because of greatly reduced income and increased operating costs, a small levy is necessary to replace the emergency appropriation under which the department is operating this year, he explained. The two-tenths mill levy on Tuesday's ballot will amount to less than 50 cents on the semi-annual tax bill for the majority of home owners, he said.

The Beaver PTA adopted a resolution supporting the health department's levy.

Starkweather Girl Friend Goes On Trial

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Presentation of evidence begins today in the trial of Caril Fugate, 15, charged with being an accomplice of Charles Starkweather, 19, in a murder rampage last January in which 10 persons were slain in Nebraska and Wyoming.

Caril is charged with being an accomplice of Starkweather in the rifle slaying of Robert Jensen, Bennet, Neb., school boy. Starkweather was convicted of the slaying and sentenced to death in the electric chair. He admitted shooting Jensen.

Caril maintains she was not an accomplice but was a hostage, and Charles McArthur, her attorney, told the jury she was an immature person cowed by an armed and desperate killer.

The hunt for Starkweather and Caril began after the bodies of Caril's mother, step-father and half-sister were found in their home. Caril has maintained she did not know of these deaths until she and Starkweather were captured in Wyoming.

Court Refuses To Reconsider Death Sentence

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has refused to reconsider its rejection of Walter J. Byomin's appeal from his death sentence for killing a Wellington police officer.

The denial Thursday exhausted Byomin's Ohio court attempts to escape execution scheduled for Nov. 7.

Attorneys for Byomin have made a plea for clemency in a hearing before the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission. The commission will make a confidential report to Gov. C. William O'Neill who has the power to commute death sentences to life imprisonment.

Byomin was convicted of first-degree murder for the slaying of Special Officer Edmund D. Smith in Lorain County on May 4, 1957. He shot Smith after a short automobile chase. Smith was seeking to question Byomin about an argument Byomin was involved in over the attentions he had been paying to a woman.

In another action the high court declined to review refusal of Butler County courts to prevent Sheriff Paul A. Pell from giving all county towing business to only two firms. Otis Spicer appealed dismissal of his suit by lower courts, saying the sheriff's policy was damaging his business.

And Something Else, Sure It Was A Car?

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Traffic officers Charles Burdette and Frank Bowser Thursday night stopped a 1949 sedan for a routine safety check.

After investigation, the officers arrested Samuel Kidd, 38, of Springfield on a charge of operating a vehicle in unsafe condition.

The officers reported the car had:

No stop lights.
No tail lights.
No license plate light.
No emergency brake.
Insufficient driving brakes.
A cracked windshield.
A cracked left door glass.
Two smooth tires.
Malfunctioning windshield wipers.
One headlight out.
No horn.

Kidd told the officers he was employed in a junk yard.

A City Without Sin

'First Time I Saw Paris'

By SAUL PETT

PARIS (AP)—The last time I saw Port Washington, N.Y., the boulevardiers on the 8:05 were leering.

"Going to Paris, I hear," said a fellow commuter on the Long Island Railroad, with a knowing elbow in my ribs.

"Man! Paris! Man, oh man, oh man!" another man groaned.

Thus, long before I took my first walk in the narrow streets of Montmartre, I felt a heavy sense of national obligation, as though it were part of the franchise of American manhood, to be thoroughly wicked in Paris.

Now I know where this national leer comes from. It comes from Paris.

"Are you alone, monsieur?" asked the hotel clerk when I registered.

"I am alone."

"Ah, yes, monsieur, you will enjoy Paris."

On the Rue de la Paix, the lady in the perfume shop refused to believe I wanted perfume for my wife.

"Mais oui, monsieur," she said, snickering.

And sure enough, going into the Louvre, I was stopped by a man in a beret who laughed like a muffled hyena. He flashed some postcards; and when I shrugged him off, he laughed again. By the time I got inside the museum even the Mona Lisa's smile seemed unduly familiar.

Coming out of Notre Dame I noticed a funeral on a side street, the mourners walking solmenly behind the hearse. In front of the cathedral another man in a beret tried to sell me postcards.

That night I joined a group of eight American men on an American express bus investigating "Paris by night." We made three stops and at each were served a single glass of champagne, no more, no less.

The first stop, the guide said in Brooklyn-accented English, was "to get us in the mood." This was a tiny Russian restaurant where we eight hell-raisers grimly watched a Russian soprano and a Hungarian guitarist.

Things picked up at the second stop, a night club called La Nouvelle Eve, where we saw some strippers. The last stop was Moulin Rouge, full of acrobats, dancers and pantomime comics. No sex.

Returning to my hotel I was given the big sell by two ladies of the Protect Paris' Reputation for Sin Society. They were waiting on the curb.

Curiously they did not whisper like the postcard salesmen. They shouted, or I felt as if they were shouting, their promise of an interesting nightcap, complete with prices in francs and dollars. I said no thanks—I have witnesses—and kept on going.

The girls laughed, and I thought I heard a few slanders about my manhood.

Inside the hotel clerk seemed amazed I was still alone. Then his expression changed to sadness and finally, to hope.

"Bon nuit, monsieur," he said, handing me my key. "But tomorrow is another day, n'est-ce pas?"

They'll never believe me back on the 8:05.

73% Increase Since 1951

Ohio Government Cited As $3 Billion Business

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy today described state government as a three-billion-dollar business.

His annual report for the bookkeeping year ended last June 30 showed over-all transactions totaling $2,834,768,591. The sum included highway improvements.

Tracy said the report showed a 73 per cent increase over state business totaling $1,580,252,395 when he took office in 1951.

The 60-page report will go to state and county officials, public libraries and banks throughout the state. It will be available to schools, civic groups and others.

Analysis of the state's financial picture showed all-time high receipts of $1,421,874,934 and record expenditures of $1,412,893,657. The balance of all funds was $366,147,728 at the end of the fiscal year.

General revenue funds for normal state operations showed that spending exceeded revenues by $45,600,552. But a transfer of $17,214,136 in undivided public utilities taxes cut the decrease to $28,386,416. The result was a drop in the general revenue fund balance during the year from $131,350,536 to $102,964,121. The balance included cash and funds encumbered but not spent.

Sales tax collections, the state's largest single sources of revenue, reflected recession inroads. Receipts last year aggregated $227,351,376 against $326,096,469 a year earlier.

Accelerated highway construction accounted for a major share of expenditures. The highway department spent $189,301,068 of its own funds plus $126,105,095 obtained from sale of major throughfare bonds.

Ohio's liquor monopoly produced $39,279,374 from which $21,300,000 was transferred to the general revenue fund as "profit." Gallonage taxes brought in another 18 million dollars.

Other major income from taxes and fees, in approximate millions of dollars, included: gasoline 123 millions, state universities and colleges 45, motor vehicle and driver licenses 74, public utilities 36, cigarettes 34, intangibles 31, insurance 28 and beer, wine and malt 23.

State and custodial funds held on behalf of the four retirement systems and the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation totaled $1,131,960,652. Another $247,385,000 in securities were held to secure deposits.

Bonded indebtedness stood at $487,230,000. That sum included World War II bonus bonds, $78,720,000; major throughfare construction bonds $315,480,000; capital improvement bonds, $34,625,000 and Korean bonus bonds $58,405,000.

Columbus' Water Supply Reduced As Line Bursts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus' water supply was cut to a trickle Thursday night when a 36-inch water line burst in an open field in suburban Grandview Heights.

The line, a main artery for the northern and northwestern sections of the city, ruptured and sent a geyser of water bursting through 15 feet of earth.

The break drained off an estimated three million gallons of water an hour and left the city and its suburbs with little or no water.

By early Thursday morning water department crews had managed to shut off most of the water pouring through the break. It was predicted that water pressure would be back up to near normal by mid-morning.

Cause of the break was not immediately determined.

Dinner Tickets Mailed To Chamber Members

The Chamber of Commerce has mailed tickets to its members for the annual fall meeting Wednesday, Nov. 19, at 6:30 p. m. at the Country Club.

Principal speaker will be Alex Chamberlain, vice president of the Ashland Oil & Refining Co. at Ashland, Ky. His topic will be: "The Importance of the Ohio River to Our Economy."

Chamberlain's address will follow a buffet supper. The Chamber's Upper Ohio Valley Development Council committee, of which Winston A. Porter is chairman, is in charge of the program. The deadline for reservations is Nov. 14.

(S)WITCH DOCTOR. The scary witch doctor actually is the attractive Irish McCalla, who pulled a switch when invited to a Halloween party in Hollywood. Seen on the "Queen of the Jungle" program, she gave up her role to appear in the frightening costume. Irish ordinarily is a pretty girl with 39-24-38 measurements. (UPI Telephoto)

Sen. Bricker Trying To Make Political Hay, Young Declares

CLEVELAND (AP)—Stephen M. Young said Thursday night Sen. John W. Bricker is trying to make political hay of his membership on the Congressional Atomic Energy Commission but "actively participated in only eight of the total of 36 of the most important hearing sessions on the U.S. atomic energy program and policies during the last Congress."

Bricker was absent entirely from more than half these hearings, Young added.

"To top this all off," said Young, Cleveland Democrat who hopes to thwart Bricker's bid for a third term, the senator "is on record as opposing President Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace proposal. How reckless can he get?"

Young again hit at Bricker for his stand during the St. Lawrence Seaway controversy.

Every Ohioan in Congress voted for the seaway except Bricker, Young said. "They were all out of step—all the other congressmen—except John. His vote was shocking, shameful and astonishing. It was a vote against every working man in Ohio because the seaway is going to mean jobs."

In Washington Thursday a Cleveland Plain Dealer reporter tried to pin down Sen. Frank J. Lausche on the Bricker-Young contest.

Lausche, who said he has finished his participation in this year's campaign after several appearances with Michael V. DiSalle, Democratic candidate for governor, replied:

"I've known Steve Young many years. He is an able, honest and experienced person, period. That's all I have to say."

The U. S. House of Representatives requires 219 votes for a majority since the admission of Alaska as a state, and 20 more are required for control.

GOP Shakes Hands, Even With Democrat

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Republican Gov. Vernon Thomson stood outside a plant gate Wednesday and shook hands with all comers — including Wisconsin's Democratic senator, William Proxmire.

As Thomson waited in the early morning gloom for workers to arrive, a lone figure approached and the governor prepared to greet him in the best campaign style.

But as the figure drew nearer a startled Thomson faced an equally startled Proxmire.

"Oh, hello, Vern," said the senator. "Well, you were here first, so I guess I better go somewhere else." Hands were shaken all around and Proxmire headed for another plant.

Both Portland, Ore., and Little Rock, Ark., are known as the "City of Roses."

Gap Steadily Narrowing

Business Profits Trailing

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Aanlyst

NEW YORK (AP) — American business profits are trailing those of last year by 25 per cent with two out of three firms showing declines for the first nine months of 1958.

But the gap slowly but steadily is being narrowed since the grim first three months of the year.

In the first quarter of 1958, the decline from the like period of 1957 was 33 per cent with the industrials off 36 per cent.

At the halfway mark, profits looked a bit better — all business running 32 per cent behind the 1957 figures, with industrials down 35 per cent.

Today a better third quarter for many companies gives the nine-month net profits after taxes of the first 461 companies to report a combined total of $5,603,763,000, compared with $7,517,376,000 for the same companies in 1957, a drop of 25.4 per cent.

Declines were reported by 316. Net losses were reported by 23, compared with 13 in the previous year. Red ink was splashed notably over the reports of the auto industry and the Eastern rail roads.

Of the 391 industrial firms reporting so far, 276 declined. Combined profits came to $4,415,504,000, against $6,215,264,000 in 1957, a drop of 28.9 per cent.

Utilities mostly went their steady way, showing a gain of 7.7 per cent this year over last. The railroads were down by 38.5 per cent.

In many cases the third-quarter reports were notably improved over the April-May-June quarter.

And tomorrow looks brighter. Many corporate executives seem sure that the last three months of the year will bring a profit gain over the third quarter and further narrow the gap, with the total for 1958 being not too far behind that for 1957.

The decline this year is marked in some of the nation's leading industries. With two of the Big Three auto makers operating at a loss, the decline for that industry as a whole was 66 per cent.

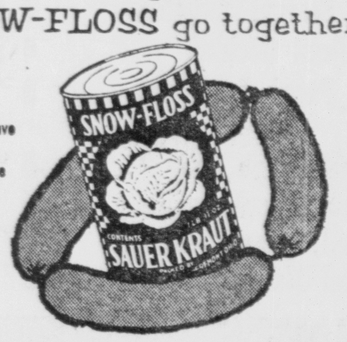

Most steelmakers are behind last year and the profit decline at the three-quarter mark of the year is 44 per cent. Business is looking up for them now and they predict a better final quarter.

Coal companies suffered along with steel and are trailing 1957 by 42 per cent. Nonferrous minng and metalworking companies slipped until recent weeks and are 36 per cent below year ago earnings.

Almost all oil companies are making less this year than last, the gap now being 29 per cent.

On the happier side, the office equipment makers, tobacco companies, food and beverage firms, and airlines join the utilities in reporting better profits this year than last. Most drug companies do too, but three of them had declines enough to pull the total for the 11 down by 4 per cent.

Coal Loadings Up

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lake Erie coal ports loaded more bituminous coal during the week ended last Monday than they did in the similar week of 1957. A total of 1,188,805 net tons was loaded into vessels compared with 1,153,005 net tons for the similar week last year. For the season to date, however, a total of 31,753,145 net tons were loaded, a drop of 9,758,445 below a year ago, the ore and coal exchange reported.

Actress' Son 1 Of 3 Killed As Planes Hit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Collision of two light planes over the San Fernando Valley killed three men, including actress Maureen O'Sullivan's 19-year-old son.

He was Michael D. Farrow, first of seven children of the Irish-born actress and movie writer-director John Farrow. The parents are in London, where the elder Farrow is completing production of a picture.

Michael, who had a student flying certificate, was killed Wednesday in one plane with David H. Johnson, 21, a flying instructor at a small airport in suburban Pacoima.

The other victim, flying alone in the other craft, was Donald W. Preneville, 39, of nearby Glendale.

The single-engine planes collided at about 600 feet in clear, sunny weather and fell 200 yards apart at opposite sides of a gravel pit near the airport.

Ohio Democratic Chairman Attacks O'Neill's Record

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic State Chairman William Coleman says Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill "set a pattern for reversals, indecisiveness and timidity early in his administration which he has been unable to get away from."

In a prepared statement, Coleman said O'Neill is trying to obscure the real issues in the campaign by his charges that Ohio is in danger of being taken over by corrupt "labor bosses."

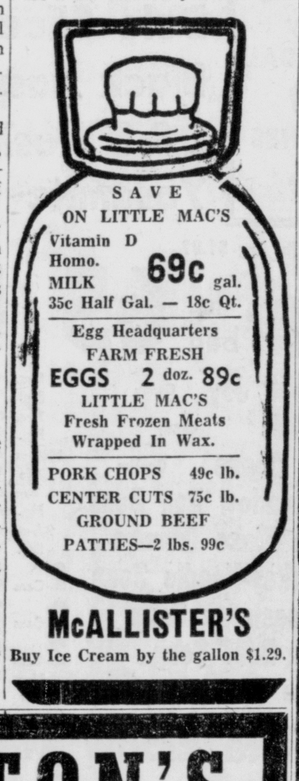

"I am sure the voters of this state will not be hoodwinked by the illfitting crusaders cloak the governor has so hastely donned," Coleman said. "I am confident Ohioans will recognize the governor's ruse. He is desperately attempting to make the people forget his ho-hum record."

Coleman asserted O'Neill's campaign promises in the current campaign "have been fished out of the pile of unfilfilled commitments he made in 1956 and simply recapped."

Negroes Take Bus Issue To Court Today

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A group of Negroes go into U.S. District Court today in an effort to have Birmingham's bus segregation ordinance declared unconstitutional.

The 22 Negroes who filed the suit against city officials and Birmingham Transit Co. were arrested in a mass demonstration against a bus segregation ordinance in December 1956.

Since then, city commissioners have repealed the ordinance which provided for separate seating of Negroes and white persons. But they replaced it with one making the transit company responsible for maintaining segregation.

The Negroes earlier this week filed an amendment to their court suit seeking to include the new ordinance. Federal Judge H. Hobart Grooms will be asked to rule on the amendment before the hearing gets under way.

Grooms is expected to be asked to throw out the suit, since the original ordinance no longer exists.

Negro leaders have accused city officials of subterfuge in adopting the new ordinance, which authorizes bus drivers to assign seats, although the law makes no mention of race.

Signs on city buses ask Negro passengers to sit in rear seats, just as was the custom under the old bus segregation ordinance.

Hungarian Found Guilty In Deaths Of Akron Couple

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—It took two hours and 20 minutes to reach a verdict — guilty of first degree murder, without recommendation of mercy. For James I. Milak that meant the electric chair.

The 37-year-old Hungarian immigrant was found guilty Thursday by a three-judge panel of the shooting to death of his former sweetheart, Mrs. Lillian Mikulac, 43, and her husband of four days, Steve, 35.

Their bodies were found in a ravine near Ravenna, 10 days after they disappeared from their Akron home.

Both were shot in the head.

The apparent motive: Milak's jealousy of their recent marriage.

When questioned about details of the shooting and shown pictures of the scene of the slayings, Milak broke into tears.

But when the verdict was read Thursday, he was calm.

Returning the verdict were Common Pleas Judges Stephen C. Colopy, Ray B. Watters and Claude V. D. Emmons.

Milak's court appointed attorneys said they would appeal.

Left $3,500,000

TOLEDO, (AP)—The wife of a retired president of the Owens-Illinois Glass Co., Mrs. William Boshart, left an estate valued at an estimated $3,500,000. Mrs. Boshart, who died Oct. 22 at the age of 85, willed the bulk of the estate to her daughter and grandchildren. An inventory of the estate was filed in Probate Court Thursday.

4 Youths Arrested For Grid Poll Slips

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Heights police have arrested four teenage boys for handling football poll betting slips and are seeking to learn their source of supply for customers in the suburb's high school.

"They seemed afraid to tell us anything about him (the supplier)," Detective Elmer Iafornaro said.

Melvin Seigel, 18, will appear in Municipal Court on a charge of possessing and selling lottery tickets, Iafornaro said. The other three one 16 and two 17, will be brought into juvenile court. Both 17-year-olds were arrested Thursday, and the others last week.

Grange Hall Looted Of $150 Of Articles

SALINEVILLE — Fingerprints taken at the Brush Creek Grange Hall have been forwarded to the sheriff's office in an attempt to trace thieves who looted the meeting place between Saturday and Monday.

Constable Alvin K. Johnston said he lifted the prints and sent them to Lisbon for possible identification.

The thieves escaped with approximately $150 worth of silverware, dishes, coffee urn, coffee pots and skillets from the Grange Hall, located in Jefferson County near the Columbiana County line.

Says State Leads Nation

Randolph Terms Jobless Chronic In West Virginia

By The Associated Press

Jennings Randolph, candidate for the short-term U. S. Senate seat at stake in Tuesday's election, said last night in Hinton that West Virginia has had a chronic unemployment problem too long.

"West Virginia has long been the state among all the 48 states with the highest percentage of its labor force unemployed," Randolph remarked.

The three other Senate hopefuls kept up their accelerated campaign paces last night. Republican Senators Chapman Revercomb and John D. Hoblitzell Jr. appeared in St. Albans near Charleston, while Rep. Robert C. Byrd (D-WVa) was at Welch.

Hoblitzell is Randolph's opponent, while the veteran Revercomb and Byrd are battling for the six-year term at stake in this state.

Randolph said that coordinated efforts by government and private enterprise must be carried forward to provide new and diversified industry for West Virginia, and that programs should be placed in effect to greatly increase the purchasing power of farmers and small business operators.

Hoblitzell said he voted on legislative measures while in the Senate this year with a prime consideration of the federal government's ability to meet its financial obligations and keep down the national debt. He added that he voted for many measures "to alleviate suffering and to help the needy and aged."

The junior senator said he supported measures to increase Social Security benefits and to provide additional benefits under the federal - state unemployment compensation program. He mentioned supporting increased funds proposed to construct hospitals and nursing homes under the Hill-Burton Act.

Hoblitzell said he also supported such proposed legislation as increased railroad retirement benefits, liberalization of many veterans benefits, the omnibus housing bill and measures encouraging small business and industry.

Revercomb remarked that in recent years a problem has arisen over the difficulty of men and women past 45, or even 40 years of age, to obtain employment in new work.

"Both government and private industry have a responsibility to do all they can to provide greater job opportunities for older workers," he said.

"Men and women of these ages, fortified with experience, are often in the most capable years of their lives."

Revercomb emphasized two surveys to support his contention.

Byrd said West Virginia's domestic industries are in distress "as a result of the national administration's mismanagement of the reciprocal trade program and its misguided policies."

He said the GOP attempts to convince the people that the recession has leveled off, "but they are assuming ostrich-like attitudes if they would have us believe that some vital areas of West Virginia have recovered from the first Eisenhower - Nixon recession of 1953-54. . ."

"The too - numerous pockets of chronic unemployment in West Virginia and other states need to be narrowed and eventually eliminated," Byrd declared.

Byrd said the administration has an unrealistic and fatalistic "we-can't-afford-to-do-it" attitude in facing up to economic problems.

The chairman of the Senate Public Works Committee's subcommittee on Roads, Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), told a Huntington audience last night that the national administration and West Virginia's Republican senators "have been sailing their ship of claims to fame under sails supplied by the Democratic-controlled Congress."

Gore said that this state can thank a Democratic majority in Congress for Interstate Highway System mileage allocated to West Virginia.

Showing Fatigue, Irritability

Nixon Finds Going Heavy, Slippery In Stretch Drive

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, determinedly striving to push the Republican elephant into a stretch gallop, has found the going heavy and the footing slippery.

The durable Nixon was showing fatigue and irritability when he stopped here between tours this week. He had taken some rude blows. He was obliged to defend and explain the damaging words and actions of other Republicans. And he had seen new threats develop to his own political future.

His temper frayed out in Minneapolis, where he barked an angry denial to a charge that hadn't been made—that he had avoided a stand on civil rights. Earlier, in Chicago, he had glared at a photographer who miscalled him "Mr. Truman." The impolitic glare was captured on film.

As the vice president took off Wednesday for a final grueling, hop-skipping tour to Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Montana, Washington state and Alaska, it seemed to some of his supporters that sheer bad luck was dogging his footsteps.

For Nixon, a record of success in this campaign is important to his own presidential aspirations in 1960. Any outcome short of a Democratic sweep could be credited partly, at least, to his talents as a vote-getter.

Certainly his efforts have helped to revive dispirited Republican organizations in many spots. Further, he has helped to add more than a million dollars to GOP finances by his fund-raising appearances and his personal efforts.

But there was still doubt whether any significant shift in voter sentiment has been wrought by Nixon or by President Eisenhower in their strong attacks on "radical" and "spendthrift" opponents.

An Associated Press check across the country indicated that neither the Republican headliners nor their opposite Democratic numbers, former President Harry S. Truman and Adlai E. Stevenson, had changed the minds of many voters.

So it was uncertain whether, as Nixon proclaimed in Lincoln, Neb. and elsewhere, the GOP has rebounded from what looked like sure defeat and that the campaign has become a brand new contest.

Neither Nixon nor Eisenhower, it became apparent has succeeded in healing the seemingly ruinous split of the top California Republicans, Sen. William F. Knowland and Gov. Goodwin Knight. The intraparty bitterness could do nothing but damage to Nixon's party in Nixon's state — and to Nixon's prestige as a leader of the state GOP organization.

And suddenly an alarm bell rang in a state which may be even more vital to Nixon's 1960 aspirations. The political pollsters decided that personable Nelson Rockefeller has edged to the fore in the New York governorship race against Gov. Averell Harriman. All Republicans could cheer, but what would the emergence of this new political phenomenon do to Nixon's chances for the nomination two years hence?

Rockefeller's gains owed nothing to Nixon. Would a Rockefeller victory give the party a potential new standard-bearer?

Other incidents plagued Nixon. The Gallup poll people issued a late-campaign report; it spoke of a Democratic landslide How come this, asked reporters, if Nixon's optimism was justified? Nixon said that hard work could change the outcome, and that the poll results already were outdated.

And why didn't Eisenhower—or if not the President, somebody else at the White House—receive the leaders of the thousands of Negro and white students who staged a pro-integration rally in Washington last Saturday? Nixon's associates did not disguise their view that the White House had goofed.

And why did Rep. Patrick J. Hillings (R-Calif.) have to choose this crucial fortnight to remark that "on Nov. 5 Dick Nixon will assume the mantle of leadership of the Republican party?" Nixon, who has tried to keep his own aspirations out of this campaign, denied it.

The vice president is a fighter who fights hardest when the battle is roughest. He'll be punching, right up to election day. But if he didn't know before, he must now realize that the tides of politics are treacherous indeed.

Keep In Trim

Teen-Agers Challenged To Stop Stuffing

Teen - age overweights, through all your letters there are familiar sentences. For example: "I used to say it was just 'baby fat'—but now I know it isn't." Or this complaint: "My mother keeps at me to stop stuffing and get my weight down, but she doesn't do anything to help me."

Ida Jean Kain

Another: "I want to be thinner, but any hint that I eat too much makes me eat more! Still I think I could reduce if I just knew how." And perhaps the most familiar sentence is this: "My will power is very poor."

Girls, you will do what you want to do. So make up your mind. Do you want to be shapely weight? Nothing ever happens — you are the girl who has to make it happen.

—:—

OF COURSE, it's one thing to be five pounds over pleasingly plump and quite another to be 20 or 25 pounds too heavy. If you are "so fat, it's pitiful," as you express it, then talk it over with your mother.

She will go all out to help you, provided you are ready to help yourself. You cannot fill up on candy, soft drinks and such between meals and then complain that potatoes are too fattening!

Here's a promise: Get your food habits in the right groove and you can outgrow the fat and clear your complexion. To help you, your dietitian has made up new slimming menus especially for you. In requesting the leaflet, ask for "Teen-Age Slimming Challenge." Be sure to enclose a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

You can forget the word diet. These menus are planned around foods which help you to lose weight without going hungry. An after-school snack is included daily. The calories are limited to 1,250 a day for you teen-age girls.

Pre-teen overweights can reduce on 1,400 calories daily, provided they are sufficiently active. Teen-age boys can reduce on 1,400 to 1,600 calories, depending on activity.

Make this a challenge. When tempted to eat a gooey confection, ask yourself right out loud, "Which would I rather do—eat that delectable sweet or lose this ugly fat? The choice is yours.

—:—

TO HELP slimming along, start picturing yourself shapely weight and lissome. Set a near goal. Try a plan suggested by one teen-ager who weighted in at 155 pounds for her 5 feet 5.

She concentrated on getting below the next five pound mark. Her reward system was to allow herself one favorite dessert when she had reduced five pounds. . .then she went happily back on slimming fare.

After she reached her right weight, she wrote: "I am so happy, I could shout it from the housetops!"

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Strong Faith Sustains Child Against Ridicule

Blessed is the child who feels proud of his family's religious ways and beliefs. On the contrary, the child who feels ashamed of these ways and beliefs, or fears ridicule of them by his age - mates, is a tragic figure indeed. It is futile to tell the child that no one will ever make fun of his family's religion. He may soon discover that some do. The problem is to make him so proud of his own religion that he will be able to withstand the ridicule of those who might call such beliefs queer or foolish.

By Garry Meyers

PARENTS DO this best who themselves are proud of their religious beliefs and are faithful to them; who make no apologies for them; who win the companship and esteem of their growing children, and who train their children in their religious ways and ceremonies from the earliest years.

Parents who don't begin family prayers, Bible reading or grace at meals till the eldest child is 10, 12 or 14, will find it harder to win his wholehearted cooperation than if they had begun when he was a mere infant.

How fine it is for the family when such religious ceremonies as saying grace have always been practiced; when, moreover, the child has always participated in celebrating special religious days.

In these days, it's not easy for even short religious ceremonies and periods of worship together at home. There are so many interests, so many things to do and so many places to go for all members of the family. Some planning and rigid holding to the plans are necessary.

MOST FAMILIES could plan to eat together, especially at the evening meal. Then, in addition to grace, there could be brief Bible reading or reading and recital from other inspiring sources.

That family does best, as a rule, when it sticks to its regular religious ceremonies at meals when guests are present. Any gracious guest should be glad to be present at these ceremonies, regardless of his particular religious beliefs and practices.

If we omitted these regular family ceremonies when there's company, it would suggest to our children that we are ashamed of them.

When we or our children are dinner guests in another family whose religious ceremonies at meals are different from our own, let us be cultivated, gracious guests as observers or participants.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I keep leftover starch, so that it can be used later?

A. Pour the starch into a glass jar and cover with a lid. Place the jar in the refrigerator and when ready to use, dilute with boiling water.

Q. How can I make the cover of the ironing board smooth and tight?

A. Tack or fasten the cover on the board while it is wet, and it will be absolutely smooth and tight when it dries.

Q. How can I keep a half lemon fresh, when a recipe requires only half?

A. It will keep until a use is found for it if it is pressed firmly on a small dish, cut side down, and placed in the refrigerator.
